Wild Ride Brings Death to Passaic Man on Route 28

Auto. Reported Traveling More Than 80, Hits Esopus Creek Bridge

A young man's wild ride ended in fatal injury at the Esopus Creek bridge where his convertible coupe crashed into a steel girder late last night.

Authorities identified him as Nicholas Nechaj, 27, of 23 Monroe street, Passaic, N. J., and found that he carried with him on this last ride a summons to answer a speeding charge at Suffern. It had been issued the same day.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Winnie, who saw the car pass as he was leaving his driveway about a mile and a half from the city on the Ontario Trail, Route 28, reported that it was apparently traveling at a rate better than 80 miles an hour.

Winnie was on his way to work at the sheriff's office, he said, when he saw the car. He attempted to pursue it but was at too much of a disadvantage. He arrived on the scene, however, an instant after it crashed into the left side of the bridge.

The front of the car was immediately enveloped in flames, the officer said, and the blaze was checked by someone who came from the barn, across the highway, with a fire extinguisher. Several persons in and near the barn arrived at the scene immediately after the accident and four or five men assisted Winnie in removing the driver from the vehicle.

Performs Autopsy
Dr. J. S. Taylor, who with Dr. Jack Lehner performed an autopsy at 10 a. m. today, reported that the young man's right ribs were fractured, he had a lacerated liver and a rupture of the aorta. He reported that "it looked as though he had been thrown against the steering wheel."

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly gave a verdict of accidental death.

District Attorney Louis A. Bruhn notified the Passaic police and it was learned through an exchange of information that Nechaj had left his home early yesterday. His mother reported that he had been thrown against the steering wheel.

Officers Kenneth Hyatt and Kenneth Stratton of the local police department went to the scene because first reports indicated that the accident might have been on the Kingston side of the bridge. Deputy Sheriffs Harry Keator, Joseph Haver and Anderson Ellisworth were also sent to the scene after the accident was reported to the sheriff's office.

Personal effects found in the car and the young man's clothing included an army discharge showing that he had served from 1942 to 1945, and was stationed at one time in New Caledonia.

Books and papers in the car revealed that he was completing high school work under the G. I. Bill in Passaic. Other information obtained by the police, indicated that he might have been dependent for the past several days.

The time of the accident was fixed at about 11:42 p. m. Impact of the crash about in the front of

U.S., Britain Send More Planes to Zones With Supplies

Berlin, July 1 (AP)—The Russians quit the Berlin city government today and thus killed the last functioning four-power governing body in Germany.

A British spokesman reported this latest development in the Berlin crisis. He said the Russians withdrew from the Kommandatura, the Allied body set up to rule Berlin, with the statement that "the Kommandatura no longer exists."

The spokesman quoted Col. Boris Kallin, the Soviet chief of staff here, as blaming the behavior of Col. Frank Howley, American commander for Berlin, and introduction of the western currency into the city, for the death of the Kommandatura.

In Frankfurt, the political representatives of 45,000,000 Germans received the proposals of the Americans, French and British for setting up a separate state in the western occupation zones. They asked for time to discuss it, but acceptance was a foregone conclusion.

The division of Germany into separate eastern and western states appeared certain unless new four-power talks are launched on the highest political levels. The Russians have already made plans for a Communist-led state in their occupation zone.

The fate of the western allies in Berlin, deep inside the Soviet zone and under Russian food blockade, remained a question. The United States and Britain, publicly committed to withstand all efforts of the Russians to squeeze them from the city, stepped up their flow of transport planes in an effort to break the blockade.

Will Honor Agreements
Kallin said Russia would continue to abide by past four-power agreements reached by the Kommandatura. He told his fellow chiefs of staff Russia respects all decisions reached by that body, since they were adopted by mutual agreement.

Kallin complained because the Americans refused to apologize for Continued on Page Twenty-one

Sahloff Elected Vice President of Montgomery Ward

Willard H. Sahloff, formerly of this city, has been elected a vice president of Montgomery Ward & Co. and appointed general merchandise manager.

Mr. Sahloff went with Wards in 1940 as manager of the housewares division after having had previous department store experience with L. Bamberger Co. in Newark, N. J.

He served 27 months in the United States Naval Reserve and in February, 1947 was appointed mail order merchandise manager. In March, 1948 he became assistant general merchandise manager. He is a graduate of Rutgers University and a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Mr. Sahloff was elected a vice president of Montgomery Ward & Co. and appointed general merchandise manager.

Grasshoppers Invade Corn, Cotton Fields

Basfield, Miss., July 1 (AP)—A mass of crunching, crawling grasshoppers—eating everything in its path but the bitter weeds—continued to inch its way through corn and cotton fields surrounding this southeastern Mississippi farm town today.

The invasion, now two days old, is being fought with a poisonous mixture of white arsenic, wheat bran and sawdust strewn in the path of the slow moving hordes.

Bill Dorris, a farmer whose fields are among those being devastated, says effectiveness of the counter-attack will be known within 36 hours.

At least 10 localities have been laid waste so far but there has been no estimate of damage.

Truman May Have Mrs. F.D.R. as His Mate on Ticket

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman predicted victory over the Dewey-Warren ticket in 1948 today and said Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt would be an acceptable running mate.

Mr. Truman described as foolish question number one a reporter's inquiry as to whether he would withdraw from the race.

The President then replied he would get the Democratic Presidential nomination on the first ballot at the national convention meeting in Philadelphia July 12.

Mr. Truman told a rapid-fire news conference that he was not worried by talk of a southern revolt against him.

The political question began when someone remarked that Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national committee chairman, had asserted Mr. Truman would be nominated on the first ballot.

The President said McGrath was correct.

Selection of a Vice Presidential candidate, he said, is up to the national convention.

This reporter observed that former Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.) had suggested that the President's only hope was to nominate Mrs. Roosevelt as the President's running mate.

At Hyde Park, Miss Malvina Thompson, Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary, said Mrs. Roosevelt was visiting friends and was not available for comment on Mr. Truman's statement he was agreeable to having her on the ticket. Miss Thompson added she did not think Mrs. Roosevelt would have anything to say at this time.

Would Mrs. Roosevelt be acceptable to the President as vice presidential candidate? Of course, Tony, of course.

Then Mr. Truman asked what the reporter would expect him (the President) to say to that. (This exchange was with Ernest B. (Tony) Vaccaro of the Associated Press.)

Truman Uses Measures for His Blasts at Republicans; Talks With McGrath

Praises Eisenhower Senator Johnston Says He's Convinced About General

(By The Associated Press)
President Truman fired three new broadsides at the Republican-controlled 80th Congress as the din of anti-Truman firing within the Democratic party grew louder today.

Bills left behind by the departed lawmakers provided the Chief Executive with ammunition for his latest blasts.

He signed appropriations measures for the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Interior Department, plus a separate bill dealing with the Virgin Islands—but only after whipping out separate statements critical of what he regarded as major defects in each one.

Just ahead of that action yesterday, Mr. Truman took time out for a huddle with Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, who is calling signals for the party's convention due to open a week from Monday in Philadelphia.

McGrath told newsmen he and the President "talked about every phase of the Democratic situation currently being talked about in the newspapers."

That seemed to make it clear the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower figured in the White House strategy session.

New York Youth Arrested at Milton For Shooting Train

Charles Richards, 17, of New York, was arrested Wednesday afternoon at Milton by the state police at Highland on a charge of "discharging firearms at a passing train."

Richards is charged with having discharged a .22 calibre rifle at the caboose of a southbound West Shore freight train at Milton early yesterday afternoon, and the bullet, the police said, barely missed Trainman E. J. Reynolds of Dumont, N. J., as it crashed through a window.

The incident was reported at about 12:30 p. m. and the youth was arrested about 20 minutes later near the railroad tracks at Milton.

Richard was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon before Ponce Justice Fred Woolsey of Milton.

President Signs Housing Measure

Truman Declares Bill Fails to Meet U. S. Long-Range Needs

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman today signed a Republican-modified housing bill but said the 80th Congress "failed miserably" to meet long-range housing needs.

The President told a news conference the legislation is "practically nothing" at all as a housing bill.

He called it a "batch of political patchwork."

"It was passed by the Congress in the final hours of the session, after the Republican leadership refused to permit the House of Representatives to vote upon the Taft-Elender-Wagner housing bill," Mr. Truman said in a formal statement.

"Public housing provisions of the T-E-W bill, calling for slum clearance, construction of low-cost homes and other features, were ripped out by the Republican majority."

Under the bill signed by Mr. Truman, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is given authority to buy G. I. home loan mortgages of up to $10,000 each.

It permits banks and other lending institutions to sell the R.F.C.'s Federal National Mortgage Association as much as 25 per cent of the G. I. mortgages they hold.

Mr. Truman used sharp language in criticizing the housing bill. The President said:

"It fails to provide for farm housing or for slum clearance. It fails to provide for housing research, for financial assistance to large-scale home construction, or for encouraging large-scale production of prefabricated housing."

Bipartisan Policy Has No Application in Other Fields of Affairs

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey declared today a United States bipartisan foreign policy he "founded" in 1944 has applied, in the main, only to United Nations' affairs.

At a news conference, the Republican presidential nominee said:

"The bipartisan policy has not been applied in the other fields of foreign affairs in most of which there has been no consultation by the administration with the Republican leadership."

He listed "the other fields of foreign affairs" in which he said there had been no consultation with the Republican leadership as the "Greek-Turkish policy which was handed to the American people without consultation, the Potsdam conference and the entire China policy or lack of one."

"I have been discussing the facts and will draw conclusions when the campaign gets under way," Dewey said.

Dewey's statement followed a conference in the executive mansion last night with his foreign affairs adviser, John Foster Dulles.

He said Dulles, a United States delegate to the U. N. General Assembly, had been asked to serve again as a delegate to the Assembly meeting in Paris next fall.

Dulles was invited prior to the national convention in Philadelphia last week but delayed acceptance, saying he wanted to consult with the Republican nominee.

Dewey disclosed he had talked with Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich.) Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), House Speaker Joseph Martin, Jr., (R-Mass.) and Rep. Continued on Page Fourteen

Anti-Communists Take Craft to Istanbul With 19 Persons Aboard

Istanbul, Turkey, July 1 (AP)—Bulgarian anti-Communists whipped Communists in a bloody fight aboard a plane in flight over Bulgaria yesterday, Istanbul airport attendants reported. The blood-stained ship landed here last night.

The attendants were able to relate only the bare outlines of what happened before Turkish police threw a veil of censorship around the whole incident. The plane had 19 living persons aboard. The pilot was dead, two other crewmen were wounded.

Nickel Subway Fare Dies At Age of 44 in New York

New York, July 1 (AP)—The nickel subway fare, beloved by millions and long in ill health, is dead at the age of 44.

It expired quietly last midnight, and a new 10-cent price tag went up in New York City's Rapid Transit Station.

The change-over marked the end of a half-century-old tradition. It drew varying responses from the morning subway crowds—a mixed chorus of grumbling, approval and indifference.

"In the first sucker," growled the first man through the turnstiles at one station after the new fare went into effect.

"The motormen are happy because this rise in fare means more money for them," said William Daily, Board of Transportation secretary.

The 39,500 transit workers will receive pay raises as a result of the fare raise. For New Yorkers, the subway ride is a big consumer's item. Some 7,000,000 ride the trains daily. Ever since the first Manhattan

Party Sessions to Begin at Belgrade July 21; Balkan Bloc Called for by Paper

Accusation Made Radio Accuses Bulgars of Trying to Make Split Wider

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, July 1 (AP)—The Communists and soldiers of Yugoslavia rallied around Premier Marshal Tito today, giving him strong support in his defiant stand against the Cominform.

Men who fought beside Tito in his days as a guerrilla leader—the first proletarian division of the Yugoslav army—elected Tito as a delegate to the Fifth Communist Party Congress, where Yugoslavia's political future may be decided.

Tito showed up in Belgrade yesterday for the first time since the Cominform blast on Monday. He was greeted with shouts of "Tito, Tito" from a youth brigade whose work he inspected.

Today the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Yugoslavia received a telegram from the Slovenian Central Committee rejecting the Cominform charges against Tito. Said the Slovenian Communists:

"We cannot be shaken for a moment in our confidence in our leadership, the Central Committee and Tito."

The Cominform—the organization of the eastern Communist states led by the Soviet Union—charged Tito with conducting a hateful policy toward the Soviet Union and one opposed to accepted Communist theory.

The Yugoslav Party Congress will begin July 21 in a program for the event published in the Communist newspaper Borba yesterday the Yugoslav Central Communist Committee upheld independence and called for a Balkan bloc of Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania. Bulgaria, previously associated with such a bloc.

Today Borba took a crack at Bulgarian Communist party leadership for supporting the Cominform charges. It asked how the Bulgarian people can draw closer to a people whose leaders are charged with Bulgarian leadership with "the most fantastic things."

"Isn't there danger in this for the cause of further close ties and brotherhood?" it asked.

(The Belgrade radio broadcast an editorial from Borba accusing Bulgarian leaders of trying to widen the split between Tito and the Cominform. It appeared to be the first hint of a widened breach between Tito and Bulgarian Premier Georgi Dimitrov. Both are Moscow-trained Communists.)

"(Some people may say that we have decided to leave the Socialist front and democracy and, also, there may be a funny official decision that we are not any more in the front," said the editorial. "No one can expel our party and our country from this front...")

(Borba said the nationalist charge against the Yugoslav Communist party and its leaders was fabricated at the last moment when the information bureau (Cominform) to answer for constructed and fabricated acts.")

The Cominform bulletin did not make its usual appearance this morning. There was no explanation. The bulletins have been printed in Belgrade which has been the Cominform's headquarters for months.

Photo Is Published Borba published a photograph of Tito visiting near Belgrade yesterday. He was dressed in civilian clothes.

The army division's action and the committee's telegram backed up Tito in the face of the condemnation of his policies by the Cominform (Communist international information bureau). Borba reported that messages from the army and the party are manifesting unity and "unlimited confidence" in the present Yugoslav leadership.

The paper said Yugoslav soldiers greet Tito, founder and supreme commander of the army, and hail the heroic central committee, which is pictured as strengthening socialism and the country's economy.

President ...

Democrats' "man of the hour." Another southern Democrat, Lt. Gov. Handy Ellis of Alabama—who will head his state's delegation to the Philadelphia convention—said at Mobile earlier in the day he would be "tickled to death" to propose Eisenhower at the start of the nominating roll call. But he added that he will yield to Texas—the general's native state—or to Kansas—his official residence.

Ellis insisted that only an absolute refusal from Eisenhower will prevent his name from going before the convention ahead of any one else.

One high party official here said that is exactly what most party big-wigs expect—a flat statement from the general that he could not be drafted.

This official, who declined to be quoted by name, said all the panning is being made on the assumption that Eisenhower will not be a serious contender for the presidential nomination.

But at Meriden, N. H., Harry Carlson wrote letters to his fellow Democratic National Committee members urging them to try to persuade Mr. Truman to withdraw in favor of the former chief of staff.

The general himself came back to Washington briefly. He appeared before a closed session of the Herbert Hoover Commission studying reorganization of the government, had luncheon with Secretary of Defense Forrester at the Pentagon and then flew back to New York late yesterday.

Douglas Possible Rival Another possible Truman rival when the Democrats gather in Philadelphia is Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

In Los Angeles, State Democratic Chairman James Roosevelt didn't mention either name. But he did tell reporters that the wait-and-see attitude adopted by California's 54-vote delegation is stirring widespread interest.

Mr. Truman seemed determined to contrast his record to that of the G.O.P.-dominated Congress. On top of his repeated denunciation of the legislative branch during his western swing last month, the President added these specific new accusations in signing the three bills yesterday:

T.V.A.—It was "reckless and irresponsible" for Congress to refuse to vote funds for a steam generating plant to augment the electrical output in that "area of critical production."

"The security of the nation may be adversely affected," the President declared. The bill carries money for other government corporations besides T.V.A.

Interior—Congress, by cutting down on the money he asked and by writing in a new job qualification provision for reclamation officials, indicated "an intent to destroy the national power policy" and will delay important reclamation work "in all of the Great Basin areas of the west."

Says It's Stop-Gap Virgin Islands—The President said the bill to extend the life of the Virgin Islands Company, an Interior Department agency designed to promote the economic welfare of the island, is a stop-gap which does little to raise the standard of living in the islands.

But while Mr. Truman was telling new fault with Congress, Rep. Hugh D. Scott of Pennsylvania was telling reporters at Philadelphia he regards his designation as Republican national chairman as a new compliment to the lawmakers' record.

Scott said his party will conduct one of the "cleanest campaigns in history" in behalf of Govs. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Earl Warren of California.

Truman May Have

he would make the record of the Republican-dominated 80th Congress an issue in the campaign.

He said the Republicans left many jobs undone when they quit June 20 for their Republican national convention.

"Will you call a special session?" a newsman asked.

Mr. Truman said he would not comment on that at this time. He did say that he would tell the people in the coming campaign what he told them on the recent cross-country trip—of what Congress did to them, not for them.

The President was asked about his comment to a trainside audience in California that he liked Gov. Earl Warren, now the Republican vice presidential candidate.

(Mr. Truman told the Californians that Warren really was a Democrat).

As a matter of fact, the Chief Executive said, he didn't have anything against Gov. Dewey, except that he said he is going to beat them both in the coming campaign. Thomas E. Dewey heads the Republican ticket.

"Then you definitely won't retire from the campaign?" another reporter said.

Mr. Truman said certainly not. He termed the query foolish question number one.

Paper Causes Fire

A newspaper on the kitchen stove in the home of David L. Breitenbecker at 87 Grant street caught fire at 2:15 p. m. Wednesday. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy reported. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Breitenbecker, who called the fire department, but the fire was extinguished by Mr. Breitenbecker with water before arrival of the department, the fire chief said.

York and Earl Warren of California.

Dewey, meanwhile, returned to Albany and reiterated his pledge to "clean house" in Washington and "strengthen the fundamentals of freedom" if he wins the Presidency in November.

Warren took a midnight plane back to California to end his four-day visit to New York city. The G.O.P. vice presidential nominee said he and Dewey will map further campaign plans by long distance telephone.

In yesterday's Republican primary in North Dakota, Gov. Fred G. Aandahl and Rep. William Lemke won their bids for renomination, but Rep. C. R. Robertson apparently lost to Usher L. Rudick, a former Congress member.

ART OF POLITICKING

The life of a politician must have its bright spots, or politics would not be so attractive to men and women who have easier ways of earning livings and finding entertainment. It also has its tribulations, to which science is contributing.

Once upon a time politics was simple. The candidate and the parties' orators could each prepare a single speech, as a barnstorming club lecturer does, and travel all over the country repeating it from memory.

Fast, complete newspaper coverage made that unwise, though friendly reporters could help by selecting one section a day to write up. The radio, however, made it impossible. With everybody listening in—the candidate hopes—he cannot go around repeating himself word-for-word.

Radio also demanded a change in elocutionary approach. No more bellowing, arm waving, striding around the platform, hypnotizing the audience with gymnastics. The orator must modulate both voice and gestures to keep near the mike and not blow it out. Often, too, he must decide whether to play for those in the hall or those on the air.

These thoughts are suggested by the G.O.P. convention just passed, the Democratic convention coming up, the bitter campaign in which Thomas Dewey will try to break Harry Truman's lease on the White House. They are suggested also by the debut at Philadelphia of big-time television.

The Republican politicians were the goals. They were victims of television's understandable and excusable uncertainty how to go about covering its first convention. They were victims also of their own ignorance that the candidate must don grease paint if he wants to look good to the boys and girls on high stools in the nation's taverns.

Conventions always have been carnivals. As television comes in the lid will go clear off. Elephants—rubber and live—are old stuff. Bunting, buttons, ties with candidates' pictures, Indians in full tribal dress are trite. That's the sort of thing that can't stand still.

Dewey's fashion parade, Stassen's Hawaiian ukulele singers were good enough for a start. The model who stole the Dewey show by coyly raising her skirt to display garters with pink elephants must have swayed less votes—though Stassen did lose—than Virginia Davis, daughter of the band leader, when she raised her skirt to show the picture of her Minnesota hero high on her thigh.

If this keeps up, television ought to be fun. It can bring other pleasures, too. Former Governor Alf Landon suggested one. Political speeches, he says, used to run for two or three hours. The demands of radio cut them down by about two-thirds. He thinks, and hopes, that television boredom will chisel off another third of their length.

When that time comes let us know. We'll start listening to some of them then.

SLOW DOWN OVER THE HOLIDAY

Speed holds the key to how free of accidents the jam-packed highways will be during the long three-day week-end. The National Safety Council states, when a record throng of pleasure-bent motorists will take to the road in celebration of Independence Day.

Speed is a contributing factor in two out of every five fatal traffic accidents and that the greater the speed when an accident occurs, the greater the chance of death.

"Speed Kills—Take It Easy", the council warns motorists as part of a nationwide campaign against holiday accidents that threaten a bumper crop of deaths and injuries.

One hundred thirty national organizations have joined with the Council in an all-out effort to prevent a tragic holiday for hundreds of Americans. The drive is designed to make the public aware of the extra holiday hazards and to help public officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to curb the Fourth of July death toll.

Speed control is the personal responsibility of each driver.

The man behind the wheel is like the man behind the gun and he can be just as deadly.

'These Days'
By George E. Sokolsky

ROBERT A. TAFT

Few men in American political life are as beloved by those who know them as Senator Robert A. Taft, who lost the nomination for the Presidency on the Republican ticket. For nearly a year, in spite of accelerated excitement for such aspirants as Harold Stassen and Arthur Vandenberg, this column has constantly maintained that it would be either Taft or Dewey, and there never was, at the convention, any other possibility.

Taft's defeat will not affect his leadership in the Senate or for that matter, in Congress. No one questions his intellectual capacity, his personal integrity or his general competence. Even his opponents admit these qualities. Taft has never been able to translate his virtues into a leadership over large enough numbers of the rank and file of his own party. Like Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and Elihu Root, he achieves every success but the Presidency.

His failure was due to several causes, principally an inadequate campaign organization and a fear that he would not do well enough to pull them through in marginal districts.

Dewey's campaign management was superb. His three managers, Herbert Brownell, Jr., J. Russell Sprague and Edwin Jaekle, moved without friction or wasted motion. Stassen and Vandenberg had smooth, mechanical organizations, although both suffered from eagerness. Taft's, on the other hand, was too rough and tumble to insure.

For instance, the Taft organization let it be believed that he would open with about 350 votes; that figure never appeared. The Dewey people said that they would make it but gave no figure. Either the Taft people were too optimistic or they did not know. That is had management.

This weakness could have been overcome were it not that this convention confined an extraordinary number of candidates for local office and for Congress. Many districts are, for Republicans, marginal; that is, they can be won only if the top of the ticket gets so large a vote that he pulls everyone along with him. These candidate-delegates were worried lest, with Taft as the nominee, they would be left behind. In every delegation such persons fought Taft. They were really protecting what they thought were their own interests, although some of them were pro-Taft, as they told me.

Whether their judgment was sound or not, they were not willing to take the risk. Dewey was, throughout the convention, regarded as the best vote-getter. Many mutual friends had hoped that Taft and Dewey would have an automatic agreement as to which would be the candidate after the second ballot. At no time was there any agreement between them in spite of the numerous stories to the contrary. This was an error on Taft's part.

Taft also erred in the last days of the convention by joining the "hold the line" of the anti-Dewey forces organized by Governor Duff of Pennsylvania whose brain-truster was Harry Luce. Taft had no business being in this because it was aimed at him. The objective of the "hold the line" was first to stop Dewey and then to kill off Taft. It was really an anti-Taft move designed to achieve the nomination of Vandenberg on a Vandenberg-Stassen ticket. This was to be accomplished in spite of Vandenberg's poor showing in the convention by a mechanical process of elimination. Taft discovered what his "friends" were doing to him too late.

Fortunately, Taft and Dewey respect each other and nothing in the convention occurred to destroy their friendship. The stories that went the rounds that Dewey was buying delegates by promises of money, as to which would be the candidate after the second ballot, were extraordinarily careful not to get caught in any mesh of that sort. For promises made must be kept and no one can know in June what he will need or want to do in January. Therefore, the Dewey people made no promises but trusted to the normal human instinct of going along with the one who appears to have the most power.

Taft then has no cause for personal antagonism to Dewey and Dewey will remember that it was the Vandenberg and not the Taft group that forced the unnecessary and unpleasant postponement after the second ballot. Taft stands out a gentleman and a good sport.

OFFICE TREATMENT OF MENTAL PATIENTS

One of the encouraging points about the science of mental health today is that we are recognizing our odd or "different" mental and emotional symptoms, and realize that we must take hold of ourselves and—if need be—let some understanding physician or psychiatrist help us.

What are some of these odd symptoms which we can correct?

In the "Bulletin of the Academy of Medicine," Toronto, Dr. H. G. Stratton states the reasons why many of us show symptoms out of line with what is considered normal behavior. These are: (1) Family history of nervous disease, alcoholism, etc.; (2) broken home in early years caused by separation, divorce, death or prolonged disagreement of parents; (3) previous history of nervous or emotional breakdown; (4) childhood fears of such things as dark, water, thunder, etc.; (5) bed wetting after six years of age; (6) persistent nail biting; (7) stammering; (8) avoidance of rough games by boys; (9) overconcern about health; (10) changing jobs too often; (11) overreaction to exciting events; (12) inability to mix well with others.

How do these various conditions or circumstances affect us?

There is: (a) restlessness; (b) rapid heart beat; (c) sweaty palms; (d) tremors; (e) overactive reflexes, such as knee jerk; (f) loss of weight.

As about six in 10 mental patients are and have been cured or greatly helped by the usual methods of treatment—getting the patient to talk and then explaining the cause of his symptoms—Dr. Stratton believes this type of treatment should be continued and, if necessary, one of the various methods of shock treatment used.

The electro-shock treatment is becoming increasingly popular not only in mental but also in general hospitals and even in private practice. The patient reports for treatment as for any physical ailment. It consists of placing two electrodes on the head, one on each temple, and discharging an electric current between them. This causes a seizure like epilepsy with convulsions and temporary confusion of mind. The patient comes out of the convulsion clearer in mind and less depressed in spirit.

It is a great step forward to have the patient report to the hospital or nerve specialist for his shock treatment.

Neurosis—believing you have a physical ailment when none exists—is becoming increasingly common. Send today for Dr. Barton's informative booklet on this subject entitled "Neurosis." To obtain it, just send 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—Three weeks ago, this columnist reported that about 150 cases of housing frauds against veterans had been referred to the U. S. District Attorney in Dallas, Texas, but that not one indictment had been brought. Several prominent citizens, including members of the Dallas Home Builders Association, it was stated, were involved.

The U. S. District Attorney, Frank Potter, immediately hurried the charge of "liar." Nonetheless, Attorney General Tom Clark has now sent a special assistant, Philip W. Yager, to Dallas, together with deputy housing expediter Morris S. Verner, Jr., and a special grand jury has been called to probe these frauds. In addition, the Veterans Administration admitted publicly that some 150 fraud cases were hanging fire.

However, here is something else which the Veterans Administration has not yet made public. In its files are some revealing letters written by its representative, R. F. Andrews, chief of the Veterans Loan Guaranty Service in Dallas. Here are some excerpts from them:

On Feb. 18, Andrews reported to Washington: "Mr. Godfrey of the Dallas Home Builders in telephone conversation with Mr. Baker, Loan Guaranty officer, Dallas, today stated that the side-payment cases now in the hands of the U. S. Attorney in Dallas are progressing to his, Mr. Godfrey's satisfaction. The innuendo is obvious."

The "side-payment" cases refer to the practice of charging veterans a fee above the limit permitted by the G.I. Bill of Rights. This fee is paid on the side and concealed from the Veterans Administration. This columnist previously reported that fraud cases involving members of the Dallas Home Builders had been referred to the U. S. Attorney in Dallas, but no action taken.

"Prominent Citizens" Involved
On June 4, Andrews again reported to the Veterans Administration in Washington:

"It would appear that Washington (the Justice Department) has directed vigorous prosecution. But procrastination is the chief of time."

In instances where so-called "prominent citizens" as termed by the U. S. Attorney's staff, are involved, it is most convenient to find excuses to postpone from one grand jury to another.

A member of the Dallas Loan Guaranty Division was in the U. S. Attorney's office while interrogations were being made concerning overpayments, and an operator admitted receiving $2,500 overpayment as "that was my sales price," and curtly inquired: "what do you intend to do about it?"

The answer was negative, as the operator was a "prominent citizen."

Again on June 10, Andrews made the following report regarding U. S. Attorney Francis Potter whom this columnist charged with dragging his feet.

"In view of the indication in these letters that the U. S. Attorney's office may not be properly cooperating in the prosecution of the numerous and conspicuous frauds involved, it is thought that perhaps you may decide to bring the matter specifically to the Attorney General."

Andrews also reported to the Veterans Administration that the side-payment complaints referred to Potter totaled more than $100,000.

Regarding near-by Fort Worth, the Veterans Administration official reported:

"In Fort Worth one operator, Whitehall and Williams, has been reported as collecting overpayment on all transactions. Cases of the U. S. Attorney in Dallas are 18 months or more ago with no action whatsoever to date, other than shutting them down to the Regional Chief Attorney for more information."

Question Arises, What Is National Political Future of Harold Stassen?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 1—What is the future of Harold Stassen in national politics?

The almost fanatical support which the former Minnesota governor got from the youth of the country argues that he cannot be crossed off as a political figure. The fact that he is only 41 years old argues that, even if Dewey is elected and serves eight years, a Stassen banner can still be raised over the white House by a President-elect 49 years of age.

It is natural that anyone who has a chance of some day being President will command financial and political support in the interim. But a man cannot continue to be just a seeker of the Presidency for eight years. He has to demonstrate by some form of public service that he is abreast of the times in public affairs.

There has been talk of a cabinet place for Stassen. If the former Minnesota governor were a "team player," as the Dewey folks use the phrase, he might have his way through the national administration—but the Dewey people are not likely to welcome Stassen into the cabinet. They fear he would go off on his own and be running for President from the cabinet table—and this isn't the meaning that the Dewey advisers give to the phrase "team play."

There remains the Senate, where Stassen could have had a seat in the last few years if he had chosen. Both the present incumbents are Republicans and his friends. Unless a vacancy develops in one or the other of these two seats, Stassen will not be able to keep himself in the limelight there. He could go to the House of Representatives for a while and later the Senate. It would be a convenient place from which to expound views to the country.

Then there is the governorship of Minnesota, in which Stassen has already done a constructive job. He doesn't lend itself to national publicity as does a seat in Congress.

The real job for Stassen would be the chairmanship of the Republican national committee after the close of the present campaign. It is a post that has too long been neglected. It has been filled by men of colorless position in the national arena. By stimulating the youth of the land and organizing public forums for the discussion of political problems is exactly what is needed and exactly what Stassen has done and can continue to do effectively.

Stassen could not be chosen for such a post unless he had the absolute trust and confidence of Governor Dewey, for the latter will dominate the Republican National Committee for the next four years at least. The best way to achieve that trust and confidence is for Stassen to get into the coming campaign with zest and enthusiasm and unremitting energy. If he does an effective job in the campaign, he will establish himself solidly with Dewey and with the regulars in the party. He will also put himself in line for the 1952 nomination if by chance Dewey doesn't win the 1948 election.

Stassen's mistakes in the pre-convention campaign were due to his inexperience and immaturity in politics. These are surmountable weaknesses. He needs seasoning in national politics.

Stassen may some day win the presidency. He is admired by many a Republican high in the councils of the party who didn't like to be quoted on the matter in the recent contest. He might have been the vice-presidential nominee with Dewey. If he had played that card differently—but the vice presidency has never been a steppingstone to the presidency by the laws of politics. It has led to the higher place only by the laws of chance.

Stassen is much too inspiring a figure to drop out of the national political picture. The chances are he will find an effective way to stay in it and gather to his side the younger Republicans of the nation, especially the World War 2 veterans who are not likely to be content with a 1920 or 1932 (or even 1946) Republicanism.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 30—President Harry Truman's bravado as an alumnus of the Pendergast gang is a reminder of the attitude of many earlier Missourians toward the Jesse James gang of cut-throats.

There is an important difference, however. President Truman was an active member of the non-criminal division of the Pendergast gang.

The respected pillars of the Jesse James gang were not even remotely concerned in its operations.

General Jo Shelby, a snorting, old, Confederate cavalry soldier, said the James brothers, Jesse and Frank, were members of the Union's guerrilla army and reported to him in 1863, at Prairie Grove, Mo., that they had taken part in a counter-attack which rescued General Shelby when he was captured. Therefore, years afterward, he would volunteer no information to officers hunting these now notorious outlaws.

There were many others of similar feeling who had no connection with James gang.

President Truman was a Missouri boy from a section, the southwest, which was still bloody ground when he was born. He isn't exactly effete today. He was born only two years after the James gang was broken up by Governor Thomas Theodore Crittenden, who had been a colonel in the Union Army.

Missouri had become known as the Robber State. The Jameses were impartial terrorists, killing wantonly and indiscriminately, the unwary and unarmed as well as victims on guard.

Some accounts of the Centralia battle said Jesse and Frank reloaded pistols for Bill Anderson, their company commander, during the Quattrini outfit while he shot dead 32 unarmed, sick union soldiers going to a hospital.

In 1897, Walter Williams, later to become dean of the Missouri School of Journalism, wrote a fine story of Frank James' return to the Centralia battleground outside town. Frank said he and Jesse had been sent to the battleground to lay the train on which the sick men were trapped but did fight in the slaughter of a union battalion in fair battle in the field.

Harry Truman, as senator, openly tried to protect the criminals of the Pendergast gang from justice and pardoned many who were jailed despite his help. He hero was no dashing horseman but a repulsive old ignoramus with the soul of a dive-keeper.

When Truman was vice president, he flew in a big army plane, to which he had no right, to Pendergast's funeral.

There is no temptation to yield to the argument that outrages against their mother and their stepfather, Doctor Reuben Samuels, justified the criminal careers of Jesse and Frank. Union soldiers were reported to have strung up Doctor Samuels in a raid on the Samuels home near Liberty, Clay County. Mo. Mrs. Samuels was said to have cut him down just in time, as though the feds would have been likely to leave the work incomplete.

Incidentally, I am taking my information out of my copy of the Crittenden memoirs, pleasantly inscribed to me in 1943 by the county, H. H. Crittenden, of Kansas City. It contains many contemporary newspaper accounts written with a professional grace that excels our best today.

A Kansas City dispatch to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat on April 3, 1862, says that the first husband of Mrs. Samuels, the father of the boys, was the Rev. Robert J. James, an eloquent Baptist minister and a founder of William Jewell College at Liberty.

"It has become a tradition," said the Globe-Democrat's story, "that he was driven from home by his wife" and went to California in 1849. Mrs. Samuels "gave an unbridled license to her tongue in advertising her sympathies for the South" and thus needed Union troops at Kearney and other towns nearby. That provocation invited informal visits by the Union troops. They grabbed the old lady and locked her up in the St. Joseph Jail for several months. Years later, about 1878, when Jesse and Frank were outlaws, an agency detective, trying to make the pinch or obliterate the gang for the railroads and express companies, tossed a grenade into the old lady's home and blew off one of her arms.

So, without sympathizing with the James boys, it can be conceded that blood had been drawn on both sides.

They had their sympathizers, and little boys of Harry Truman's time did regard them as heroes.

However, there was no shadow of any such excuse for Johnny Lazear and an underling, a victim of criminal vermin in the auxiliary of the Pendergast gang in Kansas City. They were sedentary, vicious, habitual criminals, kidnappers, sluggers and extortionists. The old chief himself had forfeited the respect of all ethical crooks by cheating his own gangsters, Mr. Taft's sureties were indicted for first-degree murder, pleaded guilty and were pardoned by Governor Crittenden on grounds of public policy.

Frank James surrendered with ceremonies in October and was tried for robbery and acquitted. The post-gangster sentiment said President Truman has revealed, obstructed justice, but the power of the James gang was broken. Missouri ceased to be called the robber state.

Governor Crittenden lost popularity but he despised those who would have praised him for finching away from his duty.

In the magnificent political language of the day, he said: "No bold, able, pure and great man performs, executes, then apolo-

The Methodist Church will sponsor a food sale at the Town of Esopus Auditorium Saturday, July 10.

There will be a special meeting of the Port Ewen Fire, Drum and Bugle Corps tonight at 7 o'clock.

Returns to California

New York, July 1 (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren was flying back to California today to take over the state's affairs from his stricken lieutenant governor. On the way to the airport last night, the Republican vice-presidential candidate talked with Herbert Brownell, Jr., top adviser to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Warren, who cut short his New York visit by three days because of Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight's illness, said his departure would not delay the start of the Republican presidential campaign. He said he will confer by telephone with Dewey, his running mate. The Dewey-Warren team will not campaign jointly, Warren said, because "that would be wasted manpower."

Incorporating lessons learned during World War II, the light cruiser USS Worcester, just completed in Camden, N. J., is the latest addition to the American fleet. The 17,000-ton ship, shown in the Delaware River, was named after the Massachusetts city which raised the $30,000,000 it cost. The Worcester, armed with six-inch guns, has a watertight hull. If hit below the water line, only the hold actually damaged would be flooded.

He also has been associated with the City of New York Ashokan Reservoir works here for 42 years.

Housing Probe Begins

New York, July 1 (AP)—A four-state federal investigation of veterans housing has started as a result of complaints of "price-gouging" and of "short-cutting" of building specifications. The investigation in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware was disclosed today by Acting Regional Housing Expediter John J. Pendergast. Pendergast said the probe will deal specifically with veterans' houses built in 1946 and 1947 with priorities and under authorization of the Federal Housing Authority.

Netburn's Supply In Plumbing Line Here for 40 Years

Plans Underway to Erect Modern Showroom to Care for Growing Business

Edward Netburn, manager of the Netburn Plumbing Supply Company at 73 Broadway has announced a program of expansion, promotion and public service to commemorate that company's 40th anniversary this year. The advertising slogan selected for 1948 is "Forty Years of Progress."

In connection with the anniversary program, the Netburn Plumbing Supply Company has offered to completely furnish the bathroom in the "Veteran's Dream Home" which will be constructed for some, totally disabled World War 2 veteran of Ulster county. The campaign for the home was inaugurated last Saturday by Robert Case, manager of Reader's theatres in Kingston.

Bath for Veteran

The unit selected by Edward Netburn for this home is one manufactured by the Eljer Company of Ford City, Pa. The bathtub has a built-in seat and a depressed side, which, according to Netburn, "will be perfect for a disabled person." The sink, toilet and bathtub fixtures are finished in twilight blue.

Expansion of the business during the past 40 years has led to the purchase by the Netburn company two months ago of property at 722 and 724 Broadway, on which it is planned to erect a modern brick showroom and warehouse.

Netburn said this week that, while preliminary plans are completed for the new building, the work will proceed slowly because of difficulties in obtaining materials.

The plumbing company was established in 1908 by Harry Netburn, its present president. His son, Edward, became associated with him as manager and buyer in 1929.

Came from Poland
Harry Netburn was born the son of Isaac Netburn, a lumber merchant in Warsaw, Poland. After spending his early years in Poland, Harry came to Kingston in 1900, where his first job was selling newspapers for the Kingston Daily Express, which at that time was published in the same building in which the present Netburn showrooms are located.

Later he left Kingston to enter a technical school conducted by R. Hoe, one of the world's leading printing press manufacturers, after which he served Hoe for three years as a machinist.

He was graduated from the New York Trade School in 1908, after completing a course in plumbing. He received his license as a master plumber in New York city in 1907.

In 1908 he returned to Kingston and opened a plumbing shop on Hulsbroeck avenue, where he remained until 1918, when he purchased the present location on lower Broadway.

Edward Netburn joined his father in the business in 1929, at which time the elder Netburn gave up the plumbing contract business and entered the plumbing supply field. Edward Netburn was born in Kingston, graduated from Kingston High School and Moran's Business School.

Bronx Man Killed, 4 Others Injured

Hudson N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Jack M. Newman, 22, a student of (80 Willett St.) the Bronx, was killed last night in an automobile collision on the Albany Post Road south of here.

Coroner Dewey Lawrence said Newman was thrown from his station-wagon and died of a fractured skull.

The student was driving alone. The other car was operated by Fred Weaver, 46, of Red Hook, who suffered head injuries, police said.

June, was taken to the North-Dutchess Health Center at Rhinebeck with a possible fracture of the hip.

Two other occupants of the Weaver car, also taken to the Health Center, were James E. Smith, 37, of Red Hook, with fractured ribs, and his wife, Marian, 34, with a possible skull fracture.

So They Say...

In a mission like mine it is better to think more and talk less.

—Count Folke Bernadotte, U.N. Mediator for Palestine

It would be peculiarly repugnant to me to have it felt that I sought to capitalize to political advantage . . . the public good will which might manifest itself upon my return to American soil following the Pacific War.

—Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

I think the Senate has to act on some kind of anti-communist legislation this session.

—Sen. Kenneth Wherry (R) of Nebraska.

Children cannot be expected to behave like human beings; if they are housed like animals.

—Nikolai Kotliakov, assistant chief of Finland's Bureau of Child Protection blaming juvenile delinquency on bad housing.

physics end, advanced mathematics, trigonometry, solid geometry and others, will be given provided there is sufficient registration.

No tuition will be charged for high school pupils whose parents reside within the boundaries of Kingston. Tuition for non-residents will be $10 per subject and will be payable beginning the second week.

Other salient facts regarding the running of the special summer classes include the limiting of two subjects for each student.

Examinations for subjects without regents credit will be held August 23 and those subjects with regents credit will be given August 24 and 25.

Credits earned during the school will be applied towards a regents academic or college entrance diploma.

MOLDED LOAF TEMPTS IN SUMMER

Molded chicken loaf, garnished with almonds, makes an ideal hot weather main dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

For hot nights, serve a molded chicken loaf as the main dish. Prepared in advance, chilled, it is ready to serve at dinner time.

Molded Chicken Loaf
(Serves 6)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold chicken stock or bouillon, 1/2 cup hot chicken stock or bouillon, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 cup pineapple syrup, 1 1/4 cups diced cooked chicken, 1/2 cup canned crushed drained pineapple, 1/2 cup dried celery.

Soften gelatin in cold chicken stock. Add hot stock and salt and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice and pineapple syrup. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in chicken, pineapple and celery. Turn into loaf pan or individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold and serve with mayonnaise or salad dressing. If desired, garnish with toasted sliced almonds.

Salmon-Tuna Fish Mold
(Serves 6)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 1 cup milk, 2 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons mild vinegar or lemon juice, 2 cups flaked salmon or tuna fish.

Soften gelatin in cold milk in top of double boiler. Put over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Combine the egg yolks, salt, mustard and paprika and beat slightly. Add small amount of the milk to the egg yolk mixture and return to double boiler. Cook over hot, not boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat; cool. Stir in lemon juice and flaked fish. Turn into large or individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold and serve with cucumber dressing.

TOMORROW'S MENU

gives to a pack of jackals. To an honest man there is something in stooping to justification which the pride of conscience does not willingly submit.

In March, 1935, Frank Dalton, an old Quantrell guerrilla, then in his eighties and living in Gladwater, Tex., wrote J. H. Cullen, then that Bob Ford moved to Crede, Colo., started a saloon and gambling house and was shot dead on July 8, 1892, by "a drunk named Kelly" who had been thrown out for "abusing one of the females in the dance hall."

"Kelly was given a sentence of 85 years but Governor Walter (?) the Populist governor, pardoned him," Dalton wrote.

Movie Ballerina Will Feature Vaudeville Show

Arlene Claire, movie ballerina whose last film role was as a featured dancer in the Margaret O'Brien picture "Unfinished Dance," will head the July Fourth holiday vaudeville show at the Broadway Theatre Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3.

Miss Claire will be supported by the Gotham Boys, a singing trio, with whom she has appeared in such night clubs as the Chez Paris in Chicago and supper clubs of the Statler Hotel organization. Miss Claire has been called by critics one of the best ballerinas since Patricia Bowman.

One matinee and two evening shows will be presented each day at the Broadway, in addition to the first-run screen attraction, "Blonde Savage," with Leif Erickson and Gale Sherwood.

Also featured will be the Musical Johnsons, man and woman xylophonists, who have played extensive California supper club dates and who recently have been at the famous Beverly Hills Country Club. Master of ceremonies will be Sammy White, comedian who was starred this past winter in the Chicago company of "Showboat."

The Wilfred May Trio, jugglers and acrobats, will offer their unusual "Fun With Hoops" act, and Burton and Janet, impersonators, will present "Impressions of Today and Tomorrow." Their recent engagements have included the Hippodrome in Baltimore, Olympic in Miami and Oriental Theatre in Chicago.

Babcock Dairy Extends Service To Its Customers

With the addition of three new Divo, Home Delivery units to their fleet of trucks, Babcock's Dairy is now prepared to give even more efficient delivery service to their growing list of customers. Babcock's Dairy has also doubled the capacity of their cooler and installed additional refrigeration facilities to insure the most efficient handling of their products.

Starting this week, Babcock's are prepared to serve its customers with another product, namely, Vitamin D Homogenized Milk for which they have already received a large number of orders. Babcock's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk will also be served through stores and restaurants.

For those who prefer the Cream Top Bottle, Babcock's Grade A Pasturized and Babcock's High Test Milk will still be available.

Babcock's Dairy was started some 68 years ago by Judson Babcock. He delivered milk by horse and wagon and served the milk direct from the cans by the dipper-full. When his son, Clarence, took over the business in 1915 a dairy building was built to take care of the rapidly increasing business. In a few years this building was outgrown, and Clarence Babcock built the present fine plant, to serve the splendid trade he had developed with a bottle of milk and courteous service. Since the death of Clarence Babcock in 1930 many more changes have occurred in the plant equipment until now Babcock's Dairy can boast of one of the finest milk processing plants in this section. Babcock's endeavor to give the public the best of service as well as the finest quality in all its dairy products.

George J. Sikworth is manager of the plant assisted by his superintendant, Walter Lawrence, who has had over 35 years experience in dairy plants.

Now Procter & Gamble brings you A MIRACLE that will revolutionize washday!

IT'S TIDE...

...you've never used anything like it!

TIDE is the postwar miracle you've been waiting for! Developed as a result of wartime research, Tide does what's never been done before—washes clothes cleaner than any soap, yet leaves colors brighter! Expect to see something entirely different when you use Tide. Even the suds look and feel different! And those wonder suds billow up instantly even in hardest water... form none of that disagreeable hard-water scum... leave no cloudy deposits on clothes or round the tub!

ONLY Tide DOES ALL FOUR!

1. Washes clothes cleaner!

It's a real washday miracle, the way Tide gets the most stubborn dirt out of heavy laundry... even heavily soiled work clothes and greasy overalls! Tide not only leaves clothes free from ordinary dirt, but actually removes dingy soap film as well! That's why Tide washes cleaner!

2. Actually brightens colors!

Tide washes away dulling soap film left from former washings... leaves dainty washable colors so thoroughly clean and fresh-looking that brightness perks up like magic!

3. Never "yellows" white things!

Turn to Tide for dazzling white washes that stay white, week after week! Tide can't turn white things yellow, no matter how often you wash them or how long you store them.

4. Gives more suds—Prove it in your dishpan!

Kind-to-hands suds! Faster suds! Longer-lasting suds than any soap in hardest water! Tide cuts grease like magic... washes dishes cleaner than any soap! No scum in the water! No greasy ring round the pan! No cloudy film on dishes and glasses! That's why they rinse and dry so sparkling clear—even without wiping!

Foreign Doctors Make Study Of Ulster Medical Methods

Ulster county will contribute in some measure to the health programs of two distant nations as the result of inspection and study tours this week of two young doctors.

They are Dr. B. Jurici of Chili, who will return soon to Valparaiso, where he will head a health district in the nation's system of socialized medicine, and Dr. B. H. Kai of China, who will be in charge of one of that nation's 10 important health units under central government control.

Medicine in Chili, Dr. Jurici reported, is virtually on a fully socialized scale and the program which began more than two decades ago has lowered the infant mortality rate by 50 per cent and substantially reduced tuberculosis, which has been the nation's major cause of death.

The program began in 1925 through legislation introduced by "medical men," who were members of the country's conservative party, and it has reached the state where its socialized form is "nearly absolute," he said.

China, meanwhile, is advancing a program to provide "free medical care" in its war against epidemics, which through the years has taken a heavy toll of the nation's many millions, Dr. Kai reported.

Among the diseases still to be fought on a large scale are smallpox, cholera, malaria, typhus and the black or bubonic plague.

Independent Program
China's central government has set up 10 units which are on call to areas of epidemic. Dr. Kai is one of 18 physicians in charge of this work and there are also 45 nurses on the staff. The work is independent of the country's military program.

Dr. Kai also served with the government during the war and he worked often to the rear of combat areas. He had seen much suffering among the nation's people, he said, and in 1945 when the people of Hung Yang in the Province of Honan, central China, faced widespread famine.

"This was a city of 30,000 population, he said, and he saw the starving people eating the wild greens of the land and the leaves of the trees. Milk is unknown to some of the people in central China, he reported, and even many of the hungry residents of the area spurned it.

Creates Food Problem
Dr. Kai reported that wartime destruction of crops that took months to raise, has discouraged farming in some areas of the nation and this has added to its food problems.

Both food and medical equipment were supplied through U.N. R.R.A. from the United States to some extent he said, but the nation still has a long way to go to solve its many health and food problems.

TB Death Rate High
Dr. Jurici reported that the fight against tuberculosis in Chile is still a major health project and that the death rate from the disease there is still about eight times as high as it is in Ulster county.

One singular provision of the government's socialized program in fighting this disease, he said, is that a man who has tuberculosis not only gets hospitalization but also his salary from the government. The law also provides that a man cured of the disease cannot be fired from his former job for at least six months after his return to it.

The employer pays one per cent toward the general fund which makes this program possible on a nationwide scale, he said.

Dr. Jurici, who has been in this country since September, studied at Columbia University. He will go to Ithaca for further study before returning to Chile when he leaves this city later this week.

Dr. Kai, who came to the United States in August, studied at the University of Minnesota to supplement his eight years of medical training in China.

Both doctors came to this city Monday and were shown the work of the local health department by Dr. George James, county health commissioner.

Community Night Program

This evening the recreation department will hold the first community night of the 1948 season at Hasbrouck Park. It is scheduled to get underway at 8:15 p. m. and will be officially opened by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. The park directors have prepared a few short acts which will last approximately half an hour and will be followed by the showing of movie shorts. All residents of Kingston and the surrounding countryside are invited to attend the community night which will be held on the upper level of Hasbrouck Park.

Fist Full of Church

Olson, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Police were searching for three-year-old Rennie Morris when the boy sauntered into his home. "I was in church," said Rennie, with a fistful of religious literature to prove it.

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Today's lesson hand is the result of a discussion that I had with Ivan Half, of Pittsburgh, Pa. A player rarely gives me a hand in which he got the worst of it. Therefore, I thought the point Half brought out all the more impressive.

You will note that over four no trump, Half bid five diamonds. North bid six hearts and South went to seven hearts. The opening lead of the eight of diamonds was won by declarer with the jack, as Half did not put up the king.

Now declarer's only problem was the heart suit. Should he play them to split two-two, or if he played them to split three-one, which hand should hold the three and which the one?

The odds favored the hearts breaking three-one, not two-two. As Half said, his bid of five diamonds indicated that he could not have more than a singleton heart. Therefore, declarer's correct play was to lead the ace of hearts, then the ten of hearts, and take the finesse if West refused to cover.

Half's five diamond bid, as often happens in a hand of this type, did more to help the opponents than for his own side. With that bid, declarer should have on trouble in figuring out the correct distribution of the hearts.

A year's collection of refuse from houses of London, England, would cover an area of 33 acres to a depth of nine feet.

Sub Officers Will Be C. of C. Guests

Plans have been completed for the Chamber of Commerce to entertain the officers of the U.S.S. Irex (SS482) at the Twaalkskill Golf Club Saturday night. The Chamber is cooperating with Herman Gottfried and his committee in helping the officers and crew of the submarine Irex have an enjoyable stay in Kingston.

The U.S.S. Irex (SS482) will arrive in Kingston on Saturday and will be here on Sunday and Monday. Hours when it will be open for public inspection will be announced.

The officers of the submarine and members of the local committee, together with their wives, will entertain the officers at dinner. This will be followed by a showing of a combat motion picture entitled, "Silent Service."

The Chamber of Commerce is pleased to welcome the U.S.S. Irex to Kingston and participate in the entertainment of the crew. The public will find it unusually interesting to visit this modern craft while it is anchored here.

Girl, 16, Is Hurt

found she was suffering mostly from superficial cuts and hospital authorities reported her condition as "good" this morning. She was treated by Dr. John B. Krom, who told police the injuries consisted of multiple lacerations of the face, a laceration of the right thumb and numerous cuts and bruises.

According to the report of a police investigation of the accident, Miss Iacona was riding her bicycle down the West Chestnut street hill leading into Broadway and crashed into the rear door of an automobile proceeding north on Broadway and driven by Joseph Ditolla of Port Ewen. The car received damage to its left rear door and window, police said.

The girl was taken to the hospital in a W. N. Conner ambulance. She had been staying in Kingston at the home of William O'Reilly at 55 West Chestnut street.

Rain Hits Fukui

Fukui, Japan, July 1 (AP)—Rain pelted funeral pyres in quake and fire ridden Fukui today, adding to the misery of the thousands of homeless. Concern was felt for refugees roaming the area as more heavy rains were forecast. River levees were smashed by the temblor of Monday. Danger of death dealing floods was acute. (The Japanese national police in Tokyo announced the "official" earthquake casualties in Fukui and Ishikawa provinces stood at 3,254 dead and 7,521 injured. These figures varied but little from tolls reported by U. S. Eighth Army from police and relief workers lists.) Bodies of 325 victims, including 22 children, were recovered this morning.

represent it at the party congress was the first unit he formed in 1941, when he was a guerrilla leader. It stayed with him throughout the war.

In announcing his selection, the division said that under his leadership it and the whole army had traversed "a long and glorious road."

Borba said the Central Committee of the Yugoslavia Communist party did not know of the compromise resolution until it heard it broadcast by the Prague radio.

The paper called upon the Bulgarian leaders to remember the close ties between Yugoslavia and Bulgaria and consider these ties in the light of the unity now being shown in Yugoslavia.

It said the people of Yugoslavia got real help from the Red Army. No country in Europe would have been liberated or kept its independence in the postwar period.

But unlike other countries, Borba added, the Yugoslavs got help from the Russians after 39 months of fighting on their own in a force of 300,000 that liberated great expanses of Yugoslav territory.

The Slovenian Central Committee said that Bolshevik (Russian Communist) party accused Yugoslav leaders unjustly. But it added the accusations had not shaken their respect for that party.

port, took off from Varna, on the Black Sea, late yesterday afternoon for Sofia, with 17 passengers. Aloft, the aircraft attendants said, the anti-Communists aboard declared themselves and took over the plane, but only after a hard fight.

One unidentified youth, wearing a blood-soaked shirt, shouted after the plane landed that he had killed the pilot. Witnesses at the airport said some of the passengers demanded to be returned to Bulgaria.

After the anti-Communist commander the ship a retired Bulgarian air officer took over the controls and headed for Istanbul. He set the craft down only after six wobbly approaches.

As soon as the ship landed, fighting again broke out and police had to use force to break up the factions.

The spectacle of planes winging suddenly out of the skies carrying refugees from countries in the Communist bloc has become a familiar one in Europe this spring.

Since February, at least eight planes from Czechoslovakia have dropped onto airfields in Germany, France and England, carrying anti-Communist refugees.

Charles H. Lull (R.-Ind.) since his nomination.

He pointed out that he appointed Dulles four years ago as his representative to "cooperate with the administration in presenting a united front to the world in way time in the formation of the United Nations."

Dewey had no comment on the Berlin situation in which the Russians have halted land transportation into the American, British and French sectors.

"The situation is developing," he observed.

Dewey said he "founded the bipartisan foreign policy to lift our participation in the world organization above partisanship and it has so continued."

The candidate explained he did not list the Marshall Plan among the "other fields of foreign affairs" in which there had been no consultation because, "as enacted into law it expressed largely the views of Republican leaders including the pattern I proposed in what I believed was the first speech charting details of the aid to Europe program."

Dewey's meeting with the newsmen came shortly before his departure for West Point to attend the funeral of Col. David Marcus, a commander in the Israeli Army.

Marcus was Acting State Commissioner of Correction when Dewey was a special racket prosecutor.

The governor planned to return to Albany after the funeral. Dulles rode up to Albany with Dewey late yesterday from the governor's farm in Pawling and heard him address 4,000 "welcome back" rosters at the Capitol steps.

Wild Ride Brings

the car and Deputy Sheriff Winne reported that the hood was knocked off and fell down the creek bank.

Those who assisted in removing the driver from the car said he was brought out from the right side because the other door was too close to the steep end of the bridge approach.

Nechaj was taken to the Kingston Hospital in the W. N. Conner ambulance and given emergency treatment. He was reported dead at 12:30 a. m.

Coroner Kelly said today that a Passaic, N. J. undertaker will arrive here late this afternoon to take the body to that city for burial July 4 in St. Peter and Paul Cemetery there.

Comin' through this Rye is the grandest flavor you ever tasted!

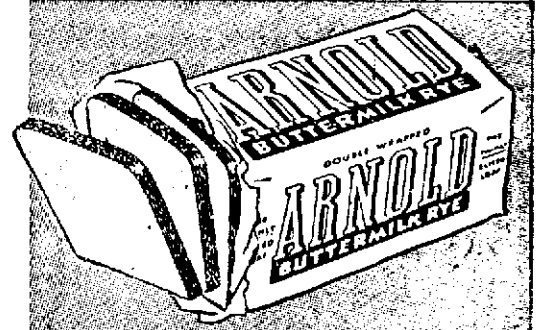

Light summer dinners—with salads and cold cuts—call for full-of-flavor Arnold Buttermilk Rye, blended from four rye flours and one wheat flour.

Picnics, too, call for Arnold Buttermilk Rye. It's thinly sliced to make easy-to-handle sandwiches with cheese or ham. Grand with a glass of beer!

Lunch on the porch! Here, too, Arnold Buttermilk Rye (with the caraway seeds ground up fine for more flavor) adds a touch you'll enjoy.

Commerce Body Has 450 Members, 42 Since January

Retail Merchants Outing Slated July 21, With Recreation Bill, Dinner, 6:30

An increase of 42 members since January 1 was announced by Robert Teetsel, chairman of the membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce during its supper meeting Tuesday at the Barn. The organization now has 450 paid memberships.

It was announced during the dinner that the budget will be prepared for 1948-49 for consideration at the regular meeting of the directors July 13.

A summary of the membership committee report indicated that to date 16 firms have reduced their duplicate memberships by 21. The report also revealed that some already have agreed to increase the number of duplicate memberships to the original number.

her. Forty-five of last year's members have rejoined and 17 entirely new memberships have been turned in.

It was reported that Lawrence J. MacAvery won the complimentary Chamber membership by turning in 16 new memberships. Lawrence Quilly was second with nine.

Members of the committee present at the final dinner were Robert Teetsel, Augustus P. Modjeska, Adrian Kaplan, Harry Gold, Lawrence Quilly, David Byrne, Lawrence J. MacAvery, M. Reina, George W. Schneider, Allan Tobin, Warren Smith, Gordon J. Peterson and Louis B. Sticketee, president.

Plans for the retail merchants outing, dinner and dance were completed Tuesday during a special meeting. The affair will be held Wednesday, July 21, at the Tunnahill Golf Club. Herman Rafalowsky, chairman, announced that tickets will be sent to each retail merchant affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce.

Following a recreational program in the afternoon, a full course dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., followed by dancing to the music of the Columbians. Entertainment also will be furnished. The committee in charge includes Herman Rafalowsky, chairman; Albert Flanagan, Arthur Long, Louis R. Natter and Henry Singer. Mr. Flanagan and Mr. Natter will serve on the reception committee while Arthur Long will have charge of decorations.

It was reported that due to the limited capacity at the club, only 130 reservations will be accepted. All retail members have been asked to make reservations early. The sale of extra tickets to others will be opened July 14.

Plans to make this an annual affair will be made providing enough interest is shown.

Earthquake Damages Greek Supply Port

Athens, July 1 (AP)—An earthquake has damaged a supply port for Greek forces fighting guerrillas about 100 miles away, but the government claims to have broken the guerrillas' grip on an intervening road.

The port of Preveza on the west coast, suffered damage yesterday from a tremor that killed three persons, injured more than 100 and destroyed nine out of 10 buildings in nearby Levkas.

But Minister of War George Stratis said last night government troops had restored traffic on the road from Preveza to Ioannina, 50 miles north, by driving the Communist-led rebels away from adjoining heights.

In occupying the heights, the guerrillas had stopped the flow of supplies to three Greek divisions engaged against other rebel bands in the Grammos Mountains some 50 miles beyond Ioannina. A dispatch said American road workers fled before them.

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 1.—William and Charles Jackson, local K. H. S. graduates, have summer employment with the telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Carlson of Brooklyn spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gebbelein and Harold Carlson. The Carlsons have invested in one of the new Frazer sedans.

Funeral services for Mrs. Nelson Bell, who died Saturday afternoon at the age of 89, were conducted at the family home here Tuesday by the Rev. Edward V. Winder, D.D., of Kingston. Burial was in the Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. Bell as Nancy Silkworth, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Silkworth, spent her girlhood years in the Bushkill section of Olive. She and her husband bought the James Every farm (Lukas place) and removed to Shokan about 35 years ago and later bought and occupied the Benjamin Secor farm, the present Bell family homestead. A brother, Harvey Silkworth, died two years ago.

A marriage of July 2, 1881, was that of Harvey A. Chase of Hurley to Louise A. Hogan of Marbletown. The Rev. F. D. Abrams, pastor of the West Hurley M. E. Church, was the officiating clergyman, and witnesses to the nuptials were Jacob Hogan and Robena Hales.

Here and There

Up in Bovina Center a 51-year old farmer was badly bruised but escaped without a fracture when he fell down a hay chute in his barn. He landed on his shoulders and was able to get up and walk to the house. A lucky fall for the Delaware county farmer. Hurling down a chute head first and striking a barn floor (probably of seasoned oak plank) is no joke. Softball seems to be a popular game in our neighboring county to the west, and the casualties are correspondingly heavy up there. At Downsville a young lady player was hit with a ball which broke her nose, shattered her glasses and injured one eye. A deposit boy, 8, met almost instant death when struck over the heart by a softball batted by his uncle. One of those tragic happenings which are likely to occur in most any sport.

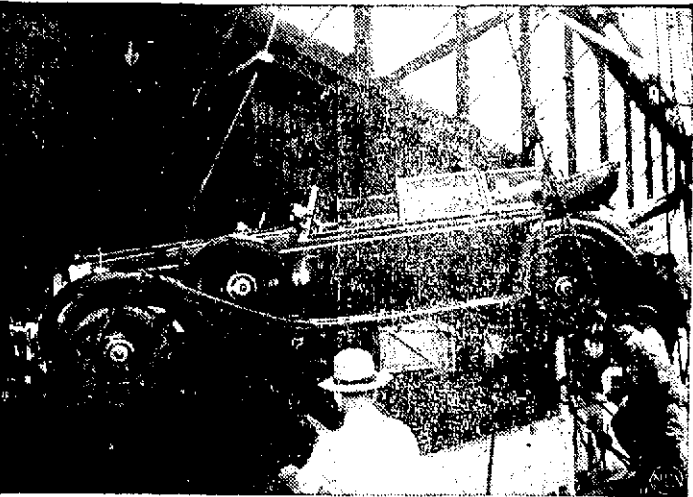

Having an Anniversary: Ches-ter and Irid Sharrocks, vacation visitors to Shokan, were married in Richmond Hill in 1933. They have two sons. The family are friends and neighbors in Richmond Hill of the James Carpenters, summer residents of long standing.

Mrs. Nelson Boice, Olive Bridge storekeeper, is driving one of the new Chevrolet panel trucks. Brodhead Bill's Uncle Cutup is writing a book titled "Why Do I Live?"—Another one of those mystery stories, says Bill.

Echo of the Past

Our second installment of excerpts from a reader's copy of the "Ulster Palladium" of December 16, 1888, dealt with the five and one-half columns of fine print given over to "Town Charges." Much of the last half of the seventh column of page one tells of the "last leap," on November 18, of Sam Patch, a noted daredevil of the old days who had previously jumped off the Genesee Falls and also at Niagara. Sam's last leap from a stage set 25 feet above the precipice of the 104-foot Genesee Falls in Rochester,

Hitler's Auto Now Just a Used Car

Christopher G. Janus, managing director of a Chicago importing firm, waited two years for a new car, without any luck. Finally, he accepted a car from Sweden in payment for a shipment of Swedish clamped down on exporting dollars. It turned out to be Hitler's custom-built, ornate Mercedes-Benz, in which the Fuehrer rode in parades. It's shown being unloaded in New York.

was made in the presence of a great gathering of spectators who lined the river banks for half a mile. He had before jumped the falls without injury, and now was determined to prove—to use his own language—that "some things can be done as well as others," he bowed to the assemblage and then "was engulfed in the abyss beneath. . . . Each heart beat with a dreadful suspense, and every eye was strained to behold his rising, but they saw not for the water still engulfed its victim. . . . At length came the

Questions—Answers

Q—Why are the newspapers called the Fourth Estate?

A—The daily press is called the Fourth Estate because of its great influence upon public affairs. Formerly in England and France the church, the nobility and the commons were known as the Three Estates of the Realm.

Q—How old was Theodore Roosevelt when he became President?

A—Theodore Roosevelt, the youngest President to assume office, was 42 years old at the time of his succession to the Presidency.

Q—What is the approximate number of Civil War veterans now living?

A—The Veterans' Administration says that the Grand Army of the Republic has only 52 known survivors left as reflected on the pension rolls. The estimated number of the Confederate veterans is 57.

Q—How did Greenland get its name?

A—According to a Scandinavian saga, in 985 A.D. Eric the Red named it Greenland in order to induce colonists from Iceland to settle in the new country.

Q—What is meant by "breaking color" and who was the first artist to use this device?

A—It is painting directly on the canvas from the raw color without mixing colors on the palette. Turner is credited with first using it.

An estimated 169 millions of patterns were sold in 1947.

Lifebuoy with its Purifying Ingredient GETS SKIN CLEANER STOPS "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

LIFEBUOY
so refreshing—so mild
GETS SKIN CLEANER

DOCTORS PROVED with 820 scientific tests the truth of this amazing statement...

The cleaner you get your skin, the doctors found, the safer you are from "B.O." (body odor). Any soap will remove all the grime and perspiration you can see. But it's the "invisible dirt," the doctors say, that may form a foothold for "B.O."

The doctors compared the effects of daily baths with different soaps. The results are amazing! Actually you are cleaner, safer from "B.O." when you take your daily bath with Lifebuoy. After 820 scientific tests doctors say Lifebuoy's clean-smelling purifying ingredient makes the difference. And this same purifying ingredient actually makes Lifebuoy milder... safe even for a baby's tender skin!

So use Lifebuoy in your daily bath... because Lifebuoy gets skin cleaner, keeps you safer from "B.O." Lifebuoy is made from a special oil blend that gives you such an abundant, refreshing lather. Remember: Lifebuoy gives you cleaner skin... stops "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

Shrine Will Get Lady of Fatima Carved From Stone

Woodstock, June 30—Sculptor Tomas Penning is exhibiting his latest work, a statue of "Our Lady of Fatima" in the current exhibition at the Woodstock Art Gallery. This piece weighs 900 pounds and was carved from bluestone taken from Fish Creek between High Woods and Veterans.

To complete this work which was a commission, it took Sculptor Penning one year. At the conclusion of the show, the statue will be taken to St. Patrick's Church in Quarryville to be placed in the shrine, where appropriate dedication ceremonies will be held.

We asked Mr. Penning if he had used a photograph to guide him in his work. "No," he replied, "I had nothing when I started but as I went along, many books and articles were published on the subject. I know of one sculptor who had a like commission for a New York church and he went abroad to try to get first hand information. There has been much controversy in the matter of expression, etc."

In going upon Penning's work, one immediately senses qualities of gentleness, kindness and understanding.

This is the sculptor's first venture into the field of liturgical arts but he stated that he enjoys this type of work and hopes he may continue with it.

Instruction in sculpture using bluestone as a medium was conducted by Penning at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen during the winter months. This was the first time such a course was given and it proved so popular that it is being continued throughout the summer months. The work of two of his students is on exhibit in the gallery. DeMare shows a dog and Pat Wollen, a pig, both carved from native bluestone. Tom has an unusual feeling for this native stone. Said he on one occasion, "The local bluestone, I love very much."

Bard Student Has Painting in Show

Woodstock, June 30—Sandra Roome, 20, Bard College student, is represented in the opening exhibition of the Woodstock Artists Association with her painting, "Deirdre," which laymen and artists alike acclaim for its subtle coloring and unusual charm.

A jury of five prominent artists made the selections for this first show of the season and it is believed that they were unanimous in their approval of Sandra's canvases. The jury included Karl Forster, Doris Lee, Wendy Jones, Charles Rosen and sculptor Nathaniel Katz.

Although her parents, Sanford and Louise Roome are both well known artists, Sandra did her first painting at Bard about a year and a half ago. At college, she is majoring in creative writing and is taking courses in philosophy, painting and literature. She stated, in an interview, that while she has done a lot of painting in college, she prefers to write in spite of the fact that she considers it much more difficult than painting.

At Bard last year, Sandra was production manager of radio for the first year of broadcasting. She resigned because of her heavy academic schedule. "Radio is a career in itself," said Sandra. This field is not at all new to her, however, as she worked for over a year on a variety show of young talent. During this period she was executive producer which entailed script writing, acting, organizing material and doing research on various musical aspects. That was in 1945 when much publicity was given to her by the New York press.

Sandra lives in Woodstock and it was learned that it took much persuasion on the part of her friends to induce her to submit a painting to the jury.

Republican Caucus Slated Saturday

Woodstock, June 30—The Republican caucus for the first and second election districts in the Town of Woodstock will be held on Saturday evening, July 3, beginning at 8 o'clock. Residents of the first district will meet in the Town Hall while those in the second district will meet in Odd Fellows' Hall, Bearsville.

Three delegates from each district will be elected to attend the Republican county convention at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium on July 10, at 11 a. m., for the purpose of recommending nominations for the offices of president, clerk, secretary, member of congress, 30th Congressional District; state senator, 34th Senatorial District; member of assembly, county clerk, coroner, seven delegates to attend Republican Judicial Convention to be called for the Third Judicial District, and seven alternate delegates.

The polls will be kept open for one hour and any person enrolled in the Republican party may vote at the caucus.

Leaycraft Show At Smith Gallery

Woodstock, June 30—Julia Seating Leaycraft will open her one-man show at the Mollie Smith Gallery, Friday afternoon. The exhibition will continue through July 23.

Born in an old family home on the Hudson River, Leaycraft prepared to Vassar at the old Kingston Academy. Later, she attended the Art Students League in New York, before taking a position in the Slater Museum, Norwich, Conn.

This well-known artist has had a varied career, having at one time been managing editor of the Delineator, and for a number of years alternated editorial work and magazine writing with painting under Birge Harrison, Henry McFee and others. She was a charter member of the Women's City Club of New York and was president of the Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations.

In Woodstock, where she has been for many years, Mrs. Leaycraft has been extremely active in the affairs of the community. She was chairman of the Citizens Committee for N.Y.A. Crafts Center, president of the Woodstock Library, and president of the Woodstock Artists Association. Besides frequent entries in the Woodstock Art Gallery, she has also shown at the Connecticut Academy, Albany Institute of Arts and Letters, and more recently, a drawing shown at the Annual of National Association of Women Artists in New York was selected for exhibition in Paris next winter.

In the past, when much of her interest was absorbed in the education of her two children, she was chairman of the Art Department in the Dalton Schools of New York.

A special meeting of the Woodstock Riding Club has been called for Thursday at 7:20 p. m. at the club ring. Every member is urged to attend this important meeting.

Rosendale Board Upheld in Matter About School Bus

By a decision of Francis T. Spaulding, commissioner of education of the State of New York, there has been sustained the action of Union Free School District No. 1 of the town of Rosendale, in awarding a contract for transportation of Rosendale pupils to Kingston High School to Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc.

The controversy arose when the school district advertised for bids to transport approximately 50 children from the district to Kingston High School. As a result of the notice the only bid received by the Board of Education was that of Shaver's Charter Bus Service, Inc. In the advertisement for bids for the transportation of the pupils which was published in August 1947 there was contained the statement "transportation will be provided for pupils unable to meet the first bus due to school schedules." The Board also reserved the right to reject any or all bids.

Shaver's Charter Bus Service, Inc., in its proposal provided that it would furnish the required transportation by the use of one bus. Upon receipt of such bid the Board of Education of the Town of Rosendale rejected the bid of Shaver's Charter Bus Service, Inc., and thereafter entered into an agreement with Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc.

In an opinion written by Commissioner Spaulding he recites the fact that the Board of Education through the affidavit of John J. Mooney, the president thereof, states that in rejecting applicant's bid, it acted "After full consideration of the convenience of the pupils and advantages, financial and otherwise of the taxpayers."

It is alleged that the board found the bid of applicant inadequate for the transportation required in the notice in that applicant specified that it would furnish only one bus for such purpose when it was apparent that one bus would be insufficient, as the notice specified that provision would be made for transporting pupils who were unable to leave the first bus due to their schedules. The memorandum continues.

Shaver's Charter Bus Service, Inc., appealed to the Commissioner of Education upon the ground that the contract for transportation should have been entered into with it rather than with Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc.

In opposing the appeal the Board of Education argued that under the terms of the notice it had the right to reject all bids, and further, that the petitioner's bid must necessarily be rejected because the petitioner was not a responsible bidder, primarily in that it could not furnish adequate transportation.

This view was upheld by the Commissioner of Education. The Commissioner decided that the word "responsible" is not limited in its meaning to mere financial responsibility, but included within its purview the general ability and capacity of the bidder to perform the work, his facilities and suitability for the task and those qualities which he must necessarily have in order that he "be

Finland to Select New Parliament

Helsinki, July 1 (AP)—Finland, Russia's northwestern neighbor, picks a new parliament in a free and secret election today and tomorrow. The Popular Democrats, comprising the Communists and Socialist Union Party, are expected to lose some of their seats.

Six parties are competing for the 200 seats in the single-house parliament, which serves three years. The Popular Democrats now have 51 seats. Cautious observers say they will keep 47. Strong boosters of other parties forecast they will drop to 35.

The election comes less than three months after the signing of a 10-year Finnish-Soviet mutual aid pact hailed here as preserving Finland's independence. It comes less than six weeks after a cabinet crisis that brought the dismissal of Yrjo Leino, Communist minister of the interior.

The voting list for Helsinki is as big as an unfolded newspaper. About 2,600,000 Finns 21 and over have the right to vote. A good guess is that 75 per cent will use it.

The ballot lists all six parties as well as their candidates, but the vote is for the person, not the party. The election system is intricate. Excess votes for any candidate go to his party and benefit the candidate next in rank.

Dispute Is Settled

Chicago, July 1 (AP)—The International Harvester Company and the C.I.O. United Farm Equipment Workers settled a lengthy wage dispute last night, 48 hours after a strike by some 35,000 union members in nine of the company's plants. The new contract, providing for a wage increase of 11 cents an hour and retention of provisions in the old contract, will be submitted for approval today by the union headquarters in Chicago. An early return to work was expected. The union described the settlement with the company as "satisfactory."

Not All Trappers

The majority of species of spiders do not spin webs to capture insects, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. Instead, they use their silk to spin egg cocoons, moulting sheets, burrow linings, or even hinges for trap doors.

Stop Encouraging Them Birds, Gal

San Francisco's Mayor Elmer Robinson has decreed that pigeons and sea gulls around the city's public places are a nuisance. So feeding them in Union Square, like 3-year-old Susan Smyk of San Bruno, Calif., is doing, is out. A city cleaning bill provides for trapping or killing the birds.

Maverick Theatre Opens Season With Oscar Wilde Hit

Woodstock, July 1.—The Maverick Summer Theatre opened its season Wednesday night when Manager Tom Reddy presented "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde. The play, a comedy in three acts, will continue tonight through Sunday, July 4, at 8:40 p. m.

The cast includes Allen Randall as Algernon Moncrieff, Clifford J. Kavan as Lane, the butler; Allen Brown, Jack Worthing; Helen Bernstein, Lady Bracknell; Katherine Guilford, the Hon. Gwendoline Fairfax; Patty Gilmore, Cecily Cardew; Kay Dawn, Miss Prism; Richard Williams, the Rev. Canon Chasuble, D.D.; and Anthony Phillips, Merriman.

Helen Bernstein as Lady Bracknell and Patty Gilmore as Cecily Cardew, gave the most convincing portrayals of the characters they played.

Sets for the play were designed by Roy Graves and the vehicle was directed by Russ Bernhardt.

Comforter Vacation School Opens July 6

The annual vacation church school at the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, will begin on Tuesday, July 6 and conclude on July 16. This will mark the sixth year a vacation school has been sponsored by the church. Classes will begin each morning at 9:15 o'clock and continue until 11:30.

A diversified program has been arranged, consisting of Bible study, handicraft, recreation and worship. The Rev. Mr. Pontier will act as dean of the school, and the following teachers will serve in the different departments: Mrs. Vernon Kelley, Miss Grace Brumante, Miss Jean Anderson, Miss Helen Barnum, Miss Joan Bruckner, Miss Marion Loeffler, Miss Jean Rider, Miss Susan Phalen, Miss Ruth Kelley.

All young people between the ages of 4 and 13 are invited to attend the vacation school. Pupils who have not yet registered may do so at the opening session on July 6.

Will Consult Dewey

Washington, July 1 (AP)—Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said today he and Representative Mundt (R-S.D.) will consult Gov. Thomas E. Dewey before they try again to get a Communist-curbs bill through Congress. The Californian told reporters a new measure will be written with the advice of the G.O.P. presidential candidate "because he apparently will have to pass on it when it reaches the White House, anyway." The House approved the original Mundt-Nixon bill but it died in the Senate during the adjournment rush last month.

The west end of the bridge over Boulder dam is in Nevada, the east end in Arizona.

War Crimes Court Is Writing Verdict

Nuernberg, Germany, July 1 (AP)—An American war crimes court went into seclusion today to write a verdict in the case of the gun-makers of the House of Krupp. The ruling is expected in about four weeks.

Twelve major officials of the great munitions combine, Germany's top gunmakers for 150 years, have been on trial since last Dec. 8.

Alfred Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halbach, titular head of the Sprawling weapons empire, made a final appeal to the court yesterday. Speaking for himself and the 11 other defendants, he said the House of Krupp only "did its duty in the war and we are conscious of no violations of the laws of humanity."

The court last April acquitted the 12 defendants on two counts in the indictment against them—one charging them with crimes against the peace, the other accusing them of participating in a conspiracy against peace.

Two counts remain. One charges them with plunder and spoliation of conquered nations. The other accuses them of deporting, exploiting and abusing slave labor.

Will Make Offices In Albany Avenue Property for Rent

The former Ross property at 55 Albany avenue recently acquired by Schaffer Stores Co., Inc., will be converted into an office building, it was announced today by Walter H. Caunitz, realtor of 243 Fair street.

The property is adjacent to the county health department building, which was sold some time ago to the chain store concern for the construction of an Empire Market on the site.

It was reported yesterday that the contract had been signed for the purchase of the second property which up until recently was the home of Mrs. L. K. Warren.

The office of Walter H. Caunitz and Daughter, announced that it was in charge of renting space in the building and that it will be remodeled to suit tenants.

The county health department is scheduled to move from the building at 61 Albany avenue Thursday and Friday to the former Loughran building on Main street and the work of razing the Albany avenue building is expected to start soon after the moving is completed.

Without Transportation Tsingtao, China, July 1 (AP)—This city of 800,000 was without public transportation today—the bus company went broke. The reason: Seventy per cent of the passengers were in uniform and refused to pay fares.

Priests Are Arrested Budapest, Hungary, July 1 (AP)—The Interior Ministry announced today that political police have arrested four Roman Catholic priests, including the secretary of Catholic Action, for "inciting against democracy."

There are an estimated 23 million home sewing enthusiasts in the United States.

Warning Is Given

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The state's Motor Vehicle Commission today coupled a decrease in New York's highway death toll with a warning that "these small gains for safety can be wiped out in a single month." Clifford J. Kitchener disclosed highway fatalities totaled 475 at the end of the first four months this year, compared to 516 a year ago. "This summer will see the heaviest travel of all time on our highways and streets," he said. "This means accident hazards are intensified all along the line."

The Diesel engine was invented by Rudolf Diesel of Germany in 1893.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 1 (AP)—The price pattern was thoroughly scrambled in today's stock market.

Numerous issues moved back and forth between the plus and minus columns. Small gains and losses were evenly distributed in almost all groups.

The nearest thing to a trend developed in the rail section where a good handful of stocks received some support.

Trading was only moderately active.

Selling at higher prices at one time were U. S. Steel, Firestone Tire (minus a dividend), Caterpillar Tractor, Charles Pfizer, Warner Bros., National Supply, Owens-Illinois, Air Reduction, Atlantic Coast Line, Baltimore & Ohio and Santa Fe.

On the minus side were Bethlehem Steel, Studebaker, General Motors, Schenley, Commonwealth Edison, American Smelting, Johns-Manville, N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific, and Standard Oil (N. J.).

Quotation by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city, branch office, 48 Main street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

Refugees Find Shelter During Palestine Truce

The Palestine truce has provided a breathing spell during which non-combatants are being helped to find temporary shelter. Here are some of more than 1500 Arab refugees who were moved in Israeli trucks and busses to the Arab lines in Tulkarm. They had been living in a village near Haifa, where food and quarters could not be provided. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent David S. Boyer.)

Two Sisters Killed

Boston, July 1 (AP)—Two sisters were killed and a third was injured seriously when two freight trains moving in opposite directions trapped four youngsters on a trestle over Neponset river last night. The dead were identified as Virginia Lyons, 12, and her sister Patricia, 14, of Boston. The third sister, Joan, 17, was in serious condition at City Hospital. Her name was on the danger list, Clifford Briggs, 18, also of Boston, who was walking with them on the 30-yard long New Haven railroad trestle, was not seriously hurt.

Holiday Travel Starts

New York, July 1 (AP)—Warm weather and prospects of a fair Fourth of July started thousands of rain-weary New Yorkers to the country and seashore today. Railroads put on extra sections to take thousands of boys and girls to summer camps. The New York Central Railroad said it was preparing for a record volume of passengers over the Fourth of July week-end. The Automobile Club of New York said it expected an unusually heavy volume of motor traffic.

Silence Is Continued

Moscow, July 1 (AP)—Moscow's press continued today its editorial silence on the Yugoslav question. Comment from Communist newspapers—in Czechoslovakia, Poland, France, Albania and Romania—on the subject occupied half of Pravda's back page, however.

Military Funeral Planned

New York, July 1 (AP)—Col. David Marcus, slain commander of Israeli forces in Jerusalem, will be buried at West Point today—exactly 28 years after he entered the military academy as a cadet. Funeral services for the twice-honored American Army colonel were scheduled late this morning at Union Temple in Brooklyn. Police, fire department and Army guards will escort the funeral procession to New York city hall, where taps will be sounded for the 47-year-old former New York city commissioner of correction.

Can't Be Elected

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—A fourth Bronx county judge can not be elected before November 1949, under the state constitution. New York's attorney general maintains. The fourth Bronx judgeship was created by the 1948 Legislature which stipulated that the post be filled in November.

Burning Issue

Fire Prevention Week in Tokyo is serious business, since fire last year destroyed buildings amounting to 40 per cent of all new construction. But a spark of humor was added to the campaign when the translation of this warning from the Japanese came out: "Keep Your Home Burning."

Five Navy Fliers Killed in Virginia

Fredericksburg, Va., July 1 (AP)—Five Navy Reserve fliers were killed yesterday in the crash of a twin-engine transport plane five miles north of here.

One of them was war hero Lt. Comm. Allen W. (Snuffy) Smith, who, as a torpedo bomber pilot, was credited with shooting down a "Tojo" bomber and with the sinking of a light Japanese cruiser and a heavy Japanese cruiser.

The fliers were returning to the naval air base in Atlanta, Ga., from Anacostia, near Washington, when their plane went down in a wooded area in Stafford county, Va., about 2 p. m. (E.S.T.).

All the victims were from Atlanta and vicinity.

Workers at a nearby sawmill, who saw the crash, said one wing of the plane buckled and then it went into a nose dive.

Gets Threatening Letter

Nanking, July 1 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart received an anonymous letter threatening him on his recent visit to Peiping. The letter, an embassy spokesman said today, did not threaten the 72-year-old envoy's life but did threaten bodily harm.

Stuart has been an outspoken critic of Chinese student agitation against U. S. policy in Japan.

Says He Would Accept

Meriden, N. H., July 1 (AP)—A New Hampshire Democratic national committeeman says he is convinced Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would accept the presidential nomination if President Truman could be persuaded to step out.

With that in mind, Harry Carlson said last night he had written other members of the national committee urging them to try to induce the President to withdraw. Carlson said his letter was sent to national committee members in all states.

Col. Howley's behavior in departing from the last meeting of the Kommandatura after 13 hours of sharp debate. Howley left his deputy William Babcock to represent him. At the time the Soviet delegation seized on the occasion to walk out, leaving the question of another meeting up in the air.

On the diplomatic front, the U. S., Britain and France considered joining forces in a new effort to open up the western sector of the city, where some 2,000,000 Berliners face slow starvation.

Britain and the U. S. funneled in more than 200 planes yesterday in the greatest air ferrying operation in peacetime history. The Americans had sent 125 transports to the city by late afternoon and more were en route. The British flew in 100 cargo craft and promised to double the number by the end of the week.

In Washington, U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall said "We intend to stay" in Berlin regardless of the Russian blockade. His announcement coincided with a Washington announcement that the number of B-29 superfortresses in Germany is being increased from 10 to 30.

In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said the western powers are determined to continue flying food to Berlin despite the risk of trouble with the Russians.

Bevin told the House of Commons the western powers are considering a direct approach to the Kremlin in an attempt to settle the Berlin crisis.

In Paris, foreign ministry sources said France has proposed joint American, British and French action to break the blockade. The informants said U. S. officials had expressed verbal approval.

Col. Howley's behavior in departing from the last meeting of the Kommandatura after 13 hours of sharp debate. Howley left his deputy William Babcock to represent him. At the time the Soviet delegation seized on the occasion to walk out, leaving the question of another meeting up in the air.

On the diplomatic front, the U. S., Britain and France considered joining forces in a new effort to open up the western sector of the city, where some 2,000,000 Berliners face slow starvation.

Britain and the U. S. funneled in more than 200 planes yesterday in the greatest air ferrying operation in peacetime history. The Americans had sent 125 transports to the city by late afternoon and more were en route. The British flew in 100 cargo craft and promised to double the number by the end of the week.

In Washington, U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall said "We intend to stay" in Berlin regardless of the Russian blockade. His announcement coincided with a Washington announcement that the number of B-29 superfortresses in Germany is being increased from 10 to 30.

In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said the western powers are determined to continue flying food to Berlin despite the risk of trouble with the Russians.

Bevin told the House of Commons the western powers are considering a direct approach to the Kremlin in an attempt to settle the Berlin crisis.

In Paris, foreign ministry sources said France has proposed joint American, British and French action to break the blockade. The informants said U. S. officials had expressed verbal approval.

In Frankfurt, where the American, French and British military commanders are meeting, Germans are being told today to start forming their own government for all western Germany.

This fusion of the three western zones will leave the Russian occupied sector in almost complete political and economic isolation.

American and British officials said 30 trains are waiting to run supplies to Berlin if the Russians open the Helmstedt-Berlin railway line, which they closed 11 days ago to repair "technical difficulties."

A British transport official charged yesterday the Russians had refused to permit the use of an alternate line to Berlin, while keeping the Helmstedt line closed.

The Russians hinted today that the Autobahn highway between western Germany and Berlin might be re-opened to traffic, but the American checkpoint at Helmstedt said no automobiles had been permitted to pass the Russian barrier this morning.

Massacre Is Charged

Nanking, July 1 (AP)—A government spokesman charged today that Chinese Communists massacred 5,000 national troops at Kaiheng. The spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, said the 5,000 were machinegunned on the banks of the Yellow river. They included national soldiers, Kuomintang (National Party) members and government workers, he said.

Smith-Tompkins Wedding Takes Place At Kerhonkson Church

Kerhonkson Dutch Reformed Church was the setting Sunday at 3 p. m. for the wedding of Miss Anna Mae Tompkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins, Kerhonkson, to Charles Joseph Smith, son of Mrs. Charles J. Smith, 31 Lincoln avenue, Poughkeepsie. The Rev. Lorenz Prohl of the Kerhonkson Federated Church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Vincent Mikalonis sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Mrs. Irving E. West of Kerhonkson was organist. The church was decorated with baskets and bouquets of June flowers and ferns. At the end of each pew and the side lights were sprays of mountain laurel and white wedding bells tied with white ribbons.

The bride's uncle, Arthur D. Krom of Poughkeepsie, gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white lace with sheer marquisette yoke arranged in an off-shoulder effect, fitted bodice, long sleeves, full hoop skirt draped in the front to show rows of tiny marquisette ruffles and arranged in a long sweeping train at the back. She wore a matching lace mantilla caught with orange blossoms and she carried a white orchid on a white ribbon. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Joan Ward, twin sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow tulle and net gown and carried a nosegay of white carnations dipped in aqua. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Doris Laxgang of Poughkeepsie, cousin of the bride, and Miss Phyllis Odell of Stamford, college friend of the bride, wore aqua tulle and net gowns and carried yellow tea roses. All wore halos and shoulder length veils and mitts to match their gowns.

Arthur Hessinger of Poughkeepsie, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Robert Hessinger and Frank Scilio, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, both of Poughkeepsie.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church annex for about 80 relatives and friends. The couple left for a wedding trip to New York city. She wore a white suit with matching accessories. They will live at 69 North Road, Poughkeepsie.

The bride is a graduate of Kerhonkson High School, class of '44, and New York State Agriculture and Technical Institute. She is a dietitian at the Violet Avenue School, Poughkeepsie.

The bridegroom served two years in Europe and is employed at the Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Former Saugerties Resident

Is Married in New York City

Miss Rosalind Gleicher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gleicher, Catskill, formerly of Saugerties, was married to Dr. Norman N. Eisman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Eisman, Brooklyn, Sunday, June 20. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Block at Hotel Astor, New York. Afterward a reception was held for 300 guests on the Belvedere Roof of the Astor with music by Arthur Stanley and orchestra.

The bride wore a lace gown fashioned on Princess styles over Skinner satin and made with long sleeves, sweetheart neckline embroidered with gold and pearls. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown of lace worn like a mantilla. She carried a Bible with orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Abe Novig, sister of the bride, formerly of this city, was matron of honor. She wore a powder blue chiffon gown trimmed with silver, picture hat and carried talisman roses. Bridesmaids were the Misses Joan Lerner, Catskill, Stella Levy, Saugerties, Louise Scuter, Edythe Neuman, Evelyn Neuman and Mildred Feller, Brooklyn. They wore chiffon gowns in ivory beige, pale green, pink, pale blue and yellow lace and chiffon. Miss Lerner wore a gown of white eyelet organdy. They carried colonial bouquets of assorted pastel flowers.

Dr. Alfred Nadel of Brooklyn was best man. Ushers were Dr. Vincent Delma, Mortimer Gleicher, brother of the bride; Burton Parnes, Fred Stoloff, Stanley Eisman and Joseph Jackler of Catskill.

The bride is a graduate of Saugerties High School. Her father is one of the proprietors of the State Sportswear Manufacturing Co., Partition street, Saugerties.

Following a month's cruise to South America, Dr. Eisman and his bride will reside in New York city. He is a graduate of Illinois Dental School and is a member of Alpha Omega Fraternity.

Hoteling-Shay Marriage Performed Monday Afternoon

The marriage of Miss Ruth Shay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shay, 21 Clinton avenue, to James Hoteling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hoteling, 25 West O'Reilly street, was performed Monday, June 28, at 5 p. m. The Rev. William J. McVey officiated at the manse of the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a shell pink dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Edgar Ward of Hurley as matron of honor wore a navy blue dress with gold accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Vincent Quinn of Grahamsville was best man.

The reception for about 60 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Afterward the bridal couple left for a wedding trip through northern New York state. For traveling she wore a navy blue two piece dress with white accessories and gardenia corsage. They will make their home with her parents for the present.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hoteling are graduates of Kingston High School. She is employed by the New York Telephone Company. He is employed at Twaitskill Golf Club.

Dancing Cotton

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

New York (NEA) One reason for the young look of St. Louis fashions is that they reflect young thinking on the campuses of the country.

Opinion polls, school surveys and actual designs contributed by young hopefuls influenced the creation of many of the summer successes launched by the St. Louis fashion center.

Proof that America's style-minded gals favor young-looking cottons is the prevalence of these styles which cater to their whims. The two fashions shown above answer the loud clamor heard in and out of the cotton belt for sun dresses which can double as dance frocks.

The green-and-white checked dress at left owes its young look to a slanted bodice and a wide skirt tucked at the hemline to form a solid border.

The dress at right was created by St. Louis designer Paula Brooks to give the young gal with a flatter every chance to show it off. Topping the full skirt of multi-colored plaid is a long-torso bodice, elasticized to fit like a second skin. A stole scarf of matching plaid is added for pure drama.

Coral Lee Carroll Given Bridal Shower

RIGHT IS PLACE OF HONOR

A reader, questioning the accuracy of a wedding detail approved of by this column, writes me as follows: "For many years I have been a church organist and have yet to see a bride enter or leave the church on either her father's or the groom's right arm. Is it not an age-old custom for a gentleman to have his right arm free to protect his lady? And yet, every so often I notice your mention of the bride walking up the church aisle on her father's right arm, standing on the left of the bridegroom during the service, turning in place and then walking out on the right of the groom. Will you explain the basis of this advice?"

According to custom, every bride does walk up the aisle on her father's right arm and comes down on the right one of her husband. Although she does stand at his left during the service, she more or less faces him. Except once, I myself never have seen a bride walk either up or down the aisle on her father's or husband's left arm.

Teaching Manners Painlessly
Dear Mrs. Post: The 19-year-old daughter of one of my dearest friends is visiting us. Apparently, knowledge of correct social behavior was not included in the curriculum of the college from which she was graduated with honors. This makes it rather difficult to know how to correct her real social deficiencies without hurting her feelings. Her table manners are particularly bad and she has no idea of the handicap of her ignorance.

Answer: My book on etiquette was written with the express purpose of describing every possible detail of accepted behavior. By referring to the book's opinions instead of your own, you perhaps could correct her without subjecting her to your personal criticism.

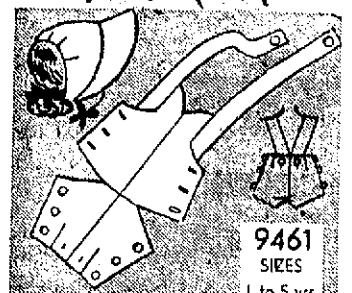

Wedding Finery at Rectory
Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is being married in the rectory. The reception will be at home. The dress she has set her mind on is white satin and has a green- and-gold train. I think the train is unsuitable for the marriage in the rectory with only a handful of guests present.

Answer: Such a train would be very out of proportion if there were no reception afterwards. But this is the only objection.

Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 501, "The Etiquette of Weddings," contains complete details of the ceremony and reception. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. ## Trowbridge-McNally Marriage Announced; To Live in Olive Bridge

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret McNally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McNally, Glenford, to Douglas Trowbridge, son of Mrs. Nina Trowbridge, Olive Bridge, and the late Otis Trowbridge. The double ring ceremony was performed June 27 at 3:30 p. m. by the Rev. Richard Oons at the Shokan Reformed Church.

The bride wore a turquoise dress with black accessories and corsage of red roses. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Janny Kuypers of Glenford, wore a pink rose corsage with her ensemble. Car Kuypers of Glenford was best man.

A reception for the immediate families and close friends was held at the home of the bride's parents. Afterward the bridal couple left for a wedding trip through upstate New York. They will live in Olive Bridge.

Both are graduates of Kingston High School. Mrs. Trowbridge is employed in the White Stag Co. office. Mr. Trowbridge operates a construction business.

Dr. Goldman Has New March

The 95th march composed by Dr. Edwin Frank Goldman, dean of American bandmasters, whose home is at Mount Tremper, was introduced by his band in Central Park Monday night. Entitled "Patience and Fortitude," the march is dedicated to the late Fiorello H. LaGuardia.

The New York Times reports that the march "is brief and lively, with pleasant, tuneful themes, plenty of clashing cymbals, and just enough of a military air to gladden the former mayor's heart. For he was the son of an army band-master and always liked a sprightly march."

Richard Ransom, to Wed
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Thorp of Des Moines, Iowa, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Andrea Thorp, to Richard L. Ransom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Ransom of Malden-on-Hudson. The wedding is planned for September at First Methodist Church, Des Moines. Both Miss Thorp and Mr. Ransom are former residents of Phoenix, Ariz. The couple will live at Malden-on-Hudson.

Firemen Blaze Colonials 5 to 1 With Late Inning Rally

Visitors Score Three Runs In Eighth to Defeat Tulacz

New York city's talented fire fighters swarmed over John "Whitey" Tulacz like a four-alarm in the eighth inning last night at municipal stadium and walked off with a 5-1 victory over the Colonials before 800 fans.

For seven innings Tulacz and Herb Fernandez, the Smoke Eaters' right hander, were locked in a five-hit duel with the Firemen in front 2 to 1.

In quick style, the Firemen fashioned three singles and a triple for a three run cluster. Fernandez meanwhile faltered only once over the nine inning stretch—in the fifth when Tommy Corrigan singled Bill Lohman home with the Colonials' lone marker.

Tulacz pitched well enough to win an ordinary game but the Colonials, dropping their third game in six starts, were helpless against Fernandez. Hits by Johnny Gentile and Steve Ristau were nullified by a double play in the

Veeck's Prophecy Is Backed to Limit As Lemon Hurls His First No-Hitter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Lemon's no run-no hit masterpiece last night made a successful prophet of Cleveland owner Bill Veeck.

The 27-year-old Indian right-hander, who tried his hand at pitching after failing to make the big league grade as an infielder or outfielder, rewarded his boss' faith by shutting out the Detroit Tigers, 2-0, without allowing a single safety.

The victory, Lemon's 11th of the season and his fifth shutout, did more than increase the Tribe's first place American League margin over the Philadelphia Athletics to a game and a half. It further solidified his position as the mainstay of the Indians' staff, which includes the great Bob Feller.

It was in September of 1946 that Veeck told this writer that Lemon "some day will become the best pitcher in the American League."

That was tremendous praise for a lad who had yet to pitch his first complete game in organized baseball, let alone the majors.

Although yesterday's effort was by far his best, Lemon has turned in other brilliant performances this season. He has permitted only four hits in each of his four previous shutouts. He has pitched 12 complete games, the most of any pitcher, and struck out 11 and 10 men in two previous games.

Only on two occasions was his no-hitter threatened. The first scare came in the fourth inning when leftfielder Dale Mitchell made an amazing one-handed leaping catch of George Kell's long drive that looked like a certain extra base hit. The other came in the fifth when Ken Koltner went deep behind third base to nip Hoot Evers on a slow hopper.

First of Season

Both Cleveland runs came in the first and were unearned.

Only three Detroit runners reached base, all on walks. It was the first major-league no-hitter of the '48 season.

Jack Kramer posted his seventh win in pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 7-3 triumph over the New York Yankees. Junior Stephens drove in five runs with two hits, including his 14th homer. Ted Williams got a single in five times at bat to extend his consecutive hitting streak through 16 games.

At St. Louis, the Browns nipped the Chicago White Sox 2-1. A home run by Paul Lehner spelled the difference.

The Boston Braves moved a game and a half ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League race by downing the New York Giants, 3-1, as the Cardinals were whipped again by the Chicago Cubs, 9-1. Bill Voiselle, ex-Giant, held his former mates to seven hits.

Leonard Is 'Beamed'

Pounding four Brooklyn pitchers for 12 hits and getting 12 walks, the Philadelphia Phillies walloped the Dodgers 13-4, at Ebbets Field. The victory cost the Phils the services of pitcher Dutch Leonard who was struck on the head by a pitched ball by Harry Taylor and was carried from the field. X-rays disclosed no fracture. The scheduled game between the Senators and Athletics was postponed by rain. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

2-Century Class

New York—Carl Hubbell, Giants, won his 200th game in 1938, the only active National leaguer to get in the 2-century class.

Kerr Correct

New York—Buddy Kerr, Giants shortstop, set two major league marks in 1947, playing 68 errorless games and handling 383 consecutive chances safely.

Tomson's Victory Sends Club Into Second Place Tie

Spotting their opponents four big runs in the opening frame, Boulevard Gulf jumped on two of Stauble's Bakery hurlers Wednesday night at the Athletic Field for a four run bulge in the top half of the fifth and then went on to push over the deciding marker in the seventh to win by 5 to 4.

Last night's important victory sent the Boulevards into a three-way tie for second place with Jones Dairy and Wilevick Motors. All three clubs have chalked up four triumphs in six starts.

Holcombe Tomson, who recently fired a one-hitter in the two circuit, emerged with another victory as he gave up eight hits, struck out three and walked four. Tomson was practically invincible after the first inning.

Mills and Radtke did the mound work for the losers with Radtke absorbing the loss. They were reached for seven blows, one a double by Charlie Lay. Radtke issued four walks and fanned three.

Two Errors Hurt

A pair of hits, a walk, a sacrifice and two costly errors by Schryver put Tomson in a jam before he could settle down in the first frame. Stauble's, taking advantage of the Boulevard lapses, rushed four runs over the platter.

Stauble's held the 4-0 bulge until the fifth when the Boulevards knotted the count on singles by the Glaser boys, George and Ed. Lay, a walk, an error and a telling singleton by Charlie Lay who clubbed out three hits during the affair.

The winners shoved over the tie-breaking tally in the seventh with the aid of an error and a couple of walks to Gorsline and Lay.

Clark Maines, youthful pitching ace of the Kingston High School team, will get his first starting assignment tonight for Chez Emile when he faces Frank's Sport. Game time is 6:15 p. m.

Billy Windburn, Bill Olen and Johnny Schatzel made their debuts. Windburn yielded a hit and walk but escaped without a run in the ninth. Olen and Schatzel failed in pinch hit roles.

Warren Muller, the ace southpaw, was unable to make the trip due to illness. C. A. Mased goes against the famous Black Yankees Saturday night, with Windburn the likely starter against the Springfield Greys in the July 4th attraction.

Buddy Van Herpe remains an enigma. After starting the game with a sensational spear of leadoff Forderlein's bat, the Carrison flash messed up two ground balls. Later he raced into short left to snag Daley's Texas Leaguer.

Colonials aren't hitting the way they should and will have to against the forthcoming powerhouses.

Telesmanich, Firemen third sucker, one of the slickest players to show here this season. Played superbly in the field and collected a pair of singles and a triple.

Ernie Downer was horse-collared but exploded two terrific grounders.

Price went hitless but on first trip slashed a hot line drive to first baseman Veth.

Gentile picked up a single. He has hit in five of the six games.

Bagatelles:
 "I'll be seeing you in television" will not be idle chatter if Rose Schatzel, our bowling queen, sends those words winging in your direction. . . . The Queen has been approached by Dumont Television for a bowling show in the fall. . . . Moss' humble apologies to George Braye, manager of the Kingston High School DUSO championship baseball squad. . . . We thoughtlessly referred to him as "Bill Brown" in the official team photo. . . . The late John Miller was one of the best baseball fans we knew. . . . Many times we engaged in pleasant breakfast chatter about the national pastime in pleasant breakfast pastime when we worked the uptown beat and were more concerned with cops and robbers than hits and errors. . . . Local baseball could stand a lot of John Millers today.

Flotsam and Jetsam:
 Suggestion Department: To the New York Giants rooters. . . . Why not form a Hudson Valley coalition and give Wes Westrum a "day" before the season ends. . . . It would be a nice gesture to a nice guy who is having a bit of a rough time getting started in the big show. . . . We'd like to see some organization tackle a soap box derby for the kids of Kingston. . . . Promotions of this type to the national finals in Akron, Ohio, is a great incentive for mechanical-minded young boys. . . . Don't you think it's about time the sun stayed out long enough to give the girls a chance to show off their new sun dresses. . . . Speaking of the distaff side, isn't that a cool looking head dress the society editor is sporting today?

Of Men and Mice:
 Better late than never. . . . The Volunteer Fire Company of Cottekill defeated the town team in baseball 13 to 8, at Sportsmen's Park recently. . . . Remember Dave Myers, the young man who started the 1917 season at shortstop for the Kingston Dodgers? Dave rapped out seven consecutive hits for Zanaville in the Ohio Indiana League on June 9. . . . Myers singled in his final appearance in the career of a doubleheader, then followed with a single, three doubles, a triple and home run in the nightcap, to drive in six runs and score as many himself. . . . Outfielder Bob Cruces, an outfielder with Amarillo of the Texas-New Mexico League hit 31 homers in his first 52 games. . . . The all-time OB record for a season is 69 set by Joe Hauser of Minneapolis in 1933. . . . Hauser was up with the A's but was strictly good hit, no field.

Gus Koch, only five letter man in K.H.S. history, was a standout with the crack Ithaca College freshman baseball squad that won eight out of 10 and later avenged those two losses by trimming the Colgate and Cornell freshmen. . . .

A couple of inveterate golfers appeared to have been lured away from the rolling greens (golf course type) by the putt-putt outdoors. . . . Roy Suttill, a Twaitskill mogul, already has been dubbed "cool grass captain" by a few members of the K.P.B.A., while Claude Needes, a Witwyck standout, was recently observed ploughing up a new 18-hole layout on the Rondout creek.

Charlie Neff, a real fireballer in his heyday has received his masters degree in phys ed at Springfield College. . . . His scholastic record as a graduate student in physical education won the rating of highest praise, and Neff was the only member of the graduate school to earn that distinction. . . . Charlie was in the Army for 50 months and held the rank of captain when he left the military service.

The day of the jam-packed fishing creel, when fishermen came home from a day's angling with a limit catch in posse. Fishing is becoming more and more of a sport. It is no longer a matter of catching all you're allowed, says Bob Wilson, an expert of the Outdoor Writers Association. . . . More people are confining their "take-home fishing pay" to just what they can comfortably use. It's only good conservation sense to take only what you will use. . . . Throughout the country, Wilson says, fishing emphasis is on sensible conservation.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: Don't forget girls, that a course in marriage has something in common with a course in cookery. As in the old-fashioned recipe, it is essential first to catch the rabbit.

Hold No Appeal
 Newark, N. J., July 1 (AP)—Long skirts for women in hot weather don't appeal to City Health Officer Charles V. Craster. "A sensible woman," he says, would wear shorts or a bathing suit. Dr. Craster explained, "excessive perspiration caused by long skirts is a health hazard, and the body of much needed salts."

Ships to Make Visits
 Washington, July 1 (AP)—The navy announced today it will send three ships, including a small cutter, to Mediterranean and Persian Gulf ports between July 15 and September 15. The cruise will include visits to Gibraltar, Madelina, Sardinia, Naples, Phaleron Bay, Greece; Izmir, Turkey, and three ports on the Persian Gulf.

Softball Scores

Newcombs Triumph

With Fink McElrath tossing a tight seven-hitter, Newcombe Oil scored a 3 to 2 squeaker over the V.F.W. rousers Wednesday night at Hasbrouck Park. Trailing 2 to 1 going into the fifth, the Oilers put together three doubles and a single to push over the deciding markers.

Bob Gill opened the fifth with a two-py smash but was thrown out trying to stretch it into a triple. Frank Roe followed with a single and galloped to third on Babe Riggins double. After Smith was retired, Bud Leininger whacked another double driving in Roe and Riggins. Leininger also was pegged out trying to stretch his double into a triple.

The Oilers took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third on Bob Gill's long home to right field. The Vees hammered back in the bottom half of the frame on Joe Norton's triple, Vince Schrader's double and a single by Vince Peck. McElrath and Riggins went the route for the winners while Kozlowski and Peck formed the losing battery.

Score by innings:
 Newcombs . . . 001 020 0-3 10 0
 V.F.W. . . . 002 000 0-2 7 0

Subways Gala Win

Although out hit by nine to eight, the Subway Grill pulled through with a close 4 to 3 triumph over the Royal Grill at Sahler's Park Wednesday night. The winners pushed over the deciding run in the seventh.

The highlights of the game were turned in by Walt Bigler's effective hurling and a home run off the bat of Alton Hunt.

Score by innings:
 Subways . . . 012 000 1-4 8 2
 Royals . . . 000 101 1-3 9 3

Hercules Win

Union Hose and Hercules each enjoyed two big scoring innings.

Wednesday night at Block park but the powdermen backed up their scoring attacks with single runs in the third and sixth to score a 9 to 6 victory.

Both clubs opened up with three run clusters in the opening frame and Hercules took a 4-3 lead in the bottom half of the third. The losers took a momentary lead in the fifth with another cluster of three runs and led by 6-4. The Port Ewen blasters went ahead again with a bulge of four in the fifth and a singleton in the sixth to win.

Hitting features of the game were turned in by George Dougherty who laced out a pair of hits, including a home run. Joe Mannello and Bob Walker each poled triples. Vince Noble collected two singles for Hercules.

Groat, Dasher and Fowler collected a pair of hits apiece for Union Hose.

The score by innings:
 Union Hose . . . 300 030 0-6 8 5
 Hercules . . . 301 041 9-11 1

Batteries—Tom Rizzi and W. Prendergast for Hercules, Joe Amato and Heppner for Union Hose.

Going Our Way?

Penn State's distance runners appear to have their places clinched on the U. S. Olympic team, even though the trials will not be completed until July 9-10. They are, left to right, Gerry Karver, 1500 meters; Horace Ashenfelder, 5000 meters; and Curt Stone, 10,000 meters. All are native Pennsylvanians.

Political Spanking Looms

New York, July 1 (AP)—A political spanking is threatened for Peter Wynne—the Bronx politician who bolted New York state's pro-Dewey delegation and voted for Senator Robert A. Taft at the Republican convention. The defection of delegate Wynne from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey left New York Republicans smarting the time the delegation cast 96 votes for Dewey and one for Taft.

Two Kindergarten Classes Graduated In Public Schools

Graduation exercises for the pupils of the kindergarten classes of Grade Schools 2 and 5 were held recently in their respective schools.

At School 2 the exercises were held in the kindergarten room where the class marched in wearing white caps with pink tassels for the girls and blue for the boys. Philip Weiner made the speech of welcome to the parents. The program consisted of several songs, verses and a dance.

Prizes were awarded to Ann Tarnower, Ralph Zimmerman, Jean Gaise and Michael Koenig. Diplomas were awarded to the 37 members of the class by A. J. Boyd, principal.

Appropriate ceremonies marked this year's kindergarten graduation class program at School 5 recently. The program follows: Songs, Circus Time, Circus Clown, Old Mister Elephant;

Reverses Conviction

New York, July 1 (AP) — The Appellate part of the Court of Special Sessions has reversed the conviction of Carl Knofer, 36, on a charge of collecting excess prices for circus tickets. The court ruled yesterday that the administrative code, under which Knofer was convicted, did not apply to him since he was an employee of the circus. Knofer, a ticket seller for Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey, was convicted March 11 in Municipal Term Court, and fined $250. A 30-day jail term was suspended.
